WILL PROVIDE FOR ABSENTEE VOTE SYSTEM

Proposal Made in House to Eliminate Frequently Disqualifying Section

EQUAL USE OF RADIO IN ELECTIONS URGED

OTTAWA, June 29 (CP).—A proposal to delete Section 37 of the Election Act was discussed by members of the House of Commons, tonight. The suggestion came from C. G. Power (Lib., Quebec South), who declared many candidates in past elections have been disqualified under its provisions.

An amendment would be introduced at a later stage to provide for an "absentee" vote in the case of lumbermen, fishermen, miners and sailors, said Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice. The amendment would provide where such a voter was twenty-five miles or more from his constituency, but within the confines of his Province, he could vote at the poll closest to where he was on election day. The amendment had been asked for by A. W. Neill (Ind., Comox-Alberni), stated the minister.

The same provision should be made for men in construction and relief camps, stated Mr. Woodsworth. He urged this provision be made.

EQUAL USE OF RADIO

Provision should be made for equal use of the radio by political parties in electoral contests, stated Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader. While considering other matters before the bill was disposed of, this provision should be taken into consideration. Mr. Guthrie said he would consider the matter.

Major Power urged that Section 37 be entirely removed, leaving it open for all engaged in election activities to exercise their franchise. Mr. Guthrie was agreeable that a wide latitude be permitted, but believed there should be a limit to the number of people a candidate could hire.

Mr. Woodsworth looked upon the suggestion as dangerous, and finally the amendment was withdrawn, and the section passed.

MUCH IMPORTANT LEGISLATION PASSED IN PRESENT SESSION

Parliament Draws to Close After Passing Many Noted Measures

NEW LEGISLATION EFFECTS CHANGES

OTTAWA, June 29 (CP).—Members of Canada's seventeenth parliament since Confederation, relaxed, today, in contemplation of relief from five months of toil that has produced perhaps the heaviest programme of advanced legislation of any session.

New laws and regulations, when proclaimed, will reach deeply into the lives of every citizen of Canada, affecting their mode of conducting business affairs, their franchise and their financial status, and if the hopes of the Government are fulfilled, will bring a measure of prosperity and stability.

TAXES LIGHTENING

The session brought some lightening of taxes for the masses, and some increases for those considered able to bear it, resulting in an estimated surplus of ordinary revenue over ordinary expenditures of $8,000,000. But this does not take into account extraordinary expenditures such as unemployment relief and railway deficits, which

SCIENCE PLAYS PART IN CASE

Inspector Vance Identifies Marks at Trial of Indians at Vernon

VERNON, June 29 (CP).—The beacon of science today shed its beams on the trial of Richardson, Alex and Eneas George, Indian brothers, charged with the murder of Dominion Constable F. H. Gisborne.

Commonplace exhibits such as shirts, socks and hats, flashlights, chains, sticks and stones, became links in a chain of evidence as Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, chief of the Vancouver Police Bureau of Science, who investigated the case, told of examining the exhibits under the stratoscope, the microscope and by research.

OPINIONS ARE DEFINITE

Marks were identified by the chemist, not only as blood stains, but definitely as from wounds of either Gisborne or Provincial Con-

Transport Minister Promoted

LONDON, June 29 (CP).—Sir Henry Betterton, Minister of Labor, stepped out of the Cabinet, today, to become chairman of the new Employment Assistance Board, and his place was taken by Oliver Stanley, up to now Minister of Transport, which does not carry Cabinet rank.

It is expected Leslie Hore-Belisha, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, will succeed Stanley as Minister of Transport.

As chairman of the new unemployment board, Sir Henry Betterton will be in charge of the administration of the great unemployment insurance revision scheme he piloted through Parliament.

OPTIMISM DEFINED

TORONTO, June 29 (CP).—The sublimation of inhibitions and emancipation of neuroses away from the manic depressive and jealousy complexes—that "roughly speaking" is the psychological definition of optimism.

COMMISSIONER IS APPOINTED

Sir Francis Floud to Succeed Sir William Clark in Canada

LONDON, June 29 (CP).—Sir Francis Lewis Castle Floud, at present Secretary to the Minister of Labor, will succeed Sir William Clark as British high commissioner to Canada, it was officially announced tonight. Sir Francis will go to Canada about the end of the year when Sir William, first holder of the post since the Governor-General ceased to be representative of the British Government, leaves.

The office of British high commissioner to Canada was instituted following passage of the Statute of Westminster, which confirmed the autonomy of the Dominion Governments, and consequently transformed the Governor-General into representative solely of His Majesty. The high commissioner was appointed to represent the Government of the United Kingdom. Sir William inaugurated this post in Ottawa in 1928.

WIDELY EXPERIENCED

The new British high commissioner to Canada is fifty-nine years old, a man of wide experience in official trade matters, particularly agriculture.

At the age of nineteen he became a secretary in the board of agriculture, and for three years before taking his present post, he was chairman of the board of customs and excise.

Sir Francis is noted in cultural circles in London. He married Phyllis Ford, of Hampstead, in 1909, and they have two sons and one daughter. He is a barrister of Lincoln's Inn, and governor of his old college, Cranleigh School.

Two Distinguished Personages Asked To Visit Victoria

Duke of Gloucester and President Franklin D. Roosevelt Will Receive Formal Invitations From Mayor and Council to Make Call Here

FORMAL invitations to visit Victoria will go forth from the City Council to two distinguished men: His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester, fourth son of Their Majesties, King George and Queen Mary, and President Franklin D. Roosevelt, of the United States.

It is expected that the latter, if Victoria's invitation is accepted, will arrive here in time to take part in the many social functions arranged for the celebration of Navy Week, which, it is hoped, will take on an international good will aspect.

COUNCIL'S ACTION

The City Council, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, was asked by Mayor David Leeming to invite His Royal Highness and the President of the United States to Victoria. In doing so, it was decided that the proper course to follow in connection with the Duke of Gloucester, would be to ask the Governor-General of Canada to extend an invitation to His Royal Highness to tour across Canada on his return home from a visit to Australia.

President Roosevelt will visit the Northwest on his return from a trip he plans to make to the Hawaiian Islands. He will arrive in the Northwest aboard one of the United States battleships, with escort, in five or six weeks' time.

The city hopes that the President will accept the invitation to visit the capital city of British Columbia, thus emulating the late President Warren Harding, who visited this province, and was the first United States President to set foot on Canadian soil.

Inflation Issue Raised in Paris

PARIS, June 29 (AP).—The inflation issue, which the Doumergue Government had considered dead, was resurrected in the Chamber of Deputies, today, and proved to be a lively corpse as attention was called to the high prices Frenchmen pay for all they buy.

"Devaluation is badly spoken of everywhere except where it is practised," said Paul Raynard, former Minister of Finance, demanding that the Franc's gold content be lowered or a vigorous deflation of prices be undertaken.

SUSPECT PROVES ESCAPED KILLER

Man Held in Winnipeg for Armed Robbery Fugitive From Florida Chain Gang

WINNIPEG, June 29 (CP).—John Ercheeson, self-styled Halifax (N.S.) road surveyor, held here on a charge of armed robbery, was identified tonight as Judy Gordon, who escaped from a Florida chain gang last January.

He was identified by United States criminal investigators at Washington, through fingerprints, as the man who escaped from a chain gang at Raiford, Fla., where he was serving a life term for murder.

Ercheeson was arrested here last Tuesday on suspicion of having robbed the Portage Avenue branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, of $3,200. More than $3,000 was discovered in a suitcase as he boarded a train leaving for Vancouver.

NOTED ACTRESS MAY LIVE SEVERAL DAYS

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 29 (AP).—Marie Dressler rallied tonight and, although there was no official statement to that effect, there seemed to be a feeling among those near the veteran motion picture actress she might live a day or two, or even three days longer.

Canadian Turtle Breaks Record in Annual Derby

BALTIMORE, June 29 (CP).—More than 1,000 persons gathered at the John Hopkins' Hospital, today, for the annual Hopkins' turtle derby, and saw a Canadian entry smash all records by waddling thirty-eight feet in 38 2-5 seconds, clipping four seconds from the old record.

Entered by Dr. Ronald McEachern, of Winnipeg, and several other Canadian physicians at Hopkins, the small shellback, carrying a British flag mounted on putty on its back, reared its head high in the air and breezed straight to victory while others waddled around, snapped at each other, or withdrew into their shells.

Dr. McEachern was presented with a $50 purse and an earthen vessel described as the racing commission grand cup.

Maple Leaf is the winner's name. The sturdy plugger scrambled across the finish line and struck out for a clump of shrubbery, not waiting for a battery of cameramen.

Leading Powers May Arrange New Naval Limitation Agreement

Accord May Be Reached Without Holding Formal Conference Next Year

FRANCE IN FAVOR OF GENERAL CONVENTION

LONDON, June 29 (AP).—Developments in connection with the naval conversations now under way indicate, persons close to the situation said today, the possibility of arranging a new limitation treaty here without the necessity of holding the formal conference set for next year.

This prediction came on the heels of a revelation that France would like to turn the conversations—so far involving only Great Britain and the United States—into a conference for the writing of a general disarmament convention.

GENERAL GATHERING

The conversations already have turned into a preliminary conference without a halt, for while bi-lateral talks, involving five nations, will continue for six weeks or more, there is every sign that they are spreading out into what amounts to a general gathering of the powers.

Informed observers consider it likely that if the bi-lateral talks develop the fact that a conference would be reasonably certain to reach an agreement, that conference will follow immediately.

It was understood French delegates who come here for naval talks intend to tell the representatives of other nations that Geneva is "temporarily finished as a political centre of the world."

REFORM NOT SEIZURE AIM

Assurances Issued From German Conservatives Under Von Papen

BERLIN, June 29 (AP).—In the midst of seething rumors as to the future of Naziism in Germany, assurances came today from the Conservatives under Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen that they want to reform the Government, not to seize it.

Rumors that the present crisis is heading for a Rightist "putsch" were pooh-poohed at the Vice-Chancellery, and at the same time one German newspaper, probably influenced by von Papen's advocacy of a free press, threw away the Nazi muzzle for the first time since Hitler came into power.

ADVOCATES ELIMINATION

The paper, "Reichsbote," once influential and now reduced to a weekly news sheet, called for the elimination of "inefficient sub-leaders," quietly and at the proper time.

Outside this jumping of the traces, the crisis is not being discussed in the press, and there is no free assembly. The result is that there are hundreds of rumors as to what will happen, or already has happened.

There is, however, general agreement on one point—the army would do whatever President Paul von Hindenburg ordered done.

INDUSTRIALISTS OBJECT

Reports that German industrialists are beginning to object openly were given new emphasis by the Chancellor's visit yesterday to the Krupp Works at Essen and his conversations with industrialists there.

The industrialists are not benefiting from the debt moratorium, since funds to meet private obligations must be paid into the Reichsbank's conversion office.

The position of the industrial element is particularly important to Hitler because he must depend upon the factories for material aid in his campaign against unemployment.

GOVERNOR IS SENTENCED

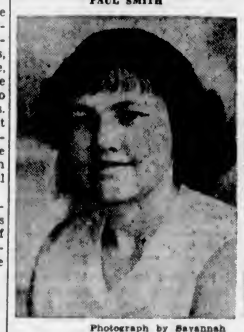

FARGO, N.D., June 29 (AP).—Governor William Langer, in Federal Court, today, was sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary and a fine of $10,000 for defrauding the United States Government.

Paul Smith Attains Unusually High Average of 93 Per Cent to Lead Grade Ten—Joyce Harvey, George Smith, Hideko Shimizu and Joyce Warren Other Leaders

PAUL Smith, of 1810 Hollywood Crescent, carried off the highest honors in the Victoria High School pass lists, released yesterday by Ira Dilworth, principal of the institution. Paul attained an average of 93 per cent, which is outstandingly good, and not often secured even by honor students.

In securing 93 per cent, Paul headed Grade X, general course students. Others to attain unusually high averages and lead their respective grades are as follows: Joyce Harvey, who was first in Grade IX, with 90 per cent; George Smith, first in Grade XI, with 82 per cent; Hideko Shimizu, who was first in first-year commercial, with 86 per cent, and Joyce Warren, who

DESTROYERS IN COLLISION

Japanese Warships Crash in Fog at High Speed During Manoeuvres

TOKIO, June 30 (AP).—Two of the Japanese navy's new 1,700-ton destroyers, the Miyuki and the Inazuma were wrecked in a terrific explosion, Friday night, with four dead, two missing and four injured.

The Navy Office announced the destroyers were participating in combined fleet manoeuvers and crashed in a fog at such high speed that portions of the Miyuki's stern and the Inazuma's bow were torn off.

Another naval tragedy was feared when it developed that three airplanes belonging to the airplane carrier Akagi, with crews totaling nine, have been missing since they left on a flight Friday morning.

Garment Makers' Wages Increased

MONTREAL, June 29 (CP).—Garment manufacturers of Montreal have agreed to the demands of the local council of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union for a 40 per cent wage increase for employees cutting Fall samples, Bernard Shane, general organizer of the union, stated here, today.

COAST-WIDE STRIKE VOTE SUGGESTION

Mediators Propose Strikers Return to Work During Arbitration Election

PICKETS ARRESTED AT PORTLAND DOCK

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29 (AP).—A coast-wise election immediately, to learn whether striking longshoremen will submit their grievances to arbitration, going back to work meanwhile, was proposed to strike leaders today by President Roosevelt's mediation board.

Though the board made no announcement of its steps, today, as it struggled first with employers and then with workers' groups in an effort to attain a basis of settling the crippling strike, it was learned authoritatively the proposal to submit grievances to arbitration was put up to both sides.

DECLINE TO CANVESS

The waterfront employers, it was reported, declined to canvass their own membership on the arbitration question until they learned whether the striking workers would accept it.

From strike leaders, also unwilling to be quoted, it was learned that of the ten striking maritime unions, all except the seamen and the longshoremen are said to be willing to submit grievances to arbitration and go back to work meanwhile.

PREDICTS USE OF SUBSTITUTES

South Okanagan Member Says Green Cherries Make Perfect Olives

VANCOUVER, June 29 (CP).—"Olives from British Columbia green cherries are a perfect substitute for the expensive olives we import," Dr. Allan Harris, chemist, and M.P.P. for South Okanagan, stated, today, on his arrival here to join the staff of the University of British Columbia Summer school.

"Don't laugh at me," he added, "I am telling you about what I have seen and tasted. If I could get them regularly I wouldn't care if I never saw an olive again."

He also told of successful experiments with glaced or "candied" apples, which bakers in Vancouver and elsewhere have declared can take the place of imported pineapple for cake making, commercial or domestic.

TO REPLACE PINEAPPLE

"I predict that the British Columbia candied apple will take the place of pineapple in the baking industry," Dr. Harris said.

Dr. Harris has been inspecting progress in the production of "cherry olives" and glaced apples in the Okanagan.

Also at Fernie he conferred with practical miners as well as engineers and chemists on the possibilities of utilizing coal in other than its fuel form. He is more convinced than ever of the practical outlook for liquefaction of coal gases to make a substitute for gasoline, and for production of a host of by-products.

"If you want to realize just what scientific research can do, go to Trail as we did, and hear the story from the mining experts there," Dr. Harris said.

Disfranchisement of Doukhobors Raises Storm in Commons

Discussion of New Legislation Evokes Contrasting Pictures of a People Hardworking and Thrifty and Arrogant and Lawless

OTTAWA, June 29 (CP). — Disfranchisement of Doukhobors in British Columbia, that religious group accused on one hand of bombing trains, burning schools, organizing nudist parades, and on the other of just being queer people with queer ideas, raised a storm in the House of Commons today.

Led by two British Columbia Conservatives, Grote Stirling and William Esling, the House passed a clause in the Elections Act, disfranchising all Doukhobors in British Columbia who had no vote provincially. It will affect 2,000 or 2,500.

CONFLICTING TONES

But the new law did not pass without a fight. The Doukhobors were painted in conflicting tones—industrious, hard-working people, who should not be persecuted as a group when a few hot-heads among them insisted on nude parades and the disregarding of all laws.

Then came the other picture—the Doukhobors deserved to lose the franchise because they voted en masse on the dictation of their leader, Peter Verigin; they were arrogant, disregarded all laws and conventions; terrified settlers living near them, and generally refused to act as good Canadian citizens.

AGENTS CLAMOR FOR INSURANCE

Public Liability Coverage on Some 750 B.C. Vehicles Taken Out

For the first time since such insurance was offered, British Columbia is insuring the bulk of provincial vehicles against public liability damage. Policies are to be written on some 750 passenger cars and light trucks, creating a brisk new business for insurance agents.

Vehicles over two tons in weight will not be insured under this plan, these being chiefly work trucks, separately housed and managed in any event.

For the purpose of consolidation, passenger cars and light trucks in the British Columbia service are being listed with the Public Works Department, from where the business of placing the insurance policies required is being handled.

The actual vehicles being insured are operated by the Works, Lands, Attorney-General's, Agricultural and other departments of the Province.

The rush of agents to get the business is understood to have caused no little embarrassment, British Columbia insurance agents being as much on their toes as their confreres in other provinces.

PICKETS ARRESTED

PORTLAND, Ore., June 29 (AP). —All available police guarded Terminal No. 4, tonight, where nonstriking longshoremen today did the first general cargo handling here since the longshoremen's strike was declared fifty-four days ago.

Two pickets were arrested for resisting officers when police twice moved picket lines back away from the terminal where a small group of men unloaded wool into a warehouse from freight cars.

NO STEAM SUPPLIED

LOS ANGELES, June 29 (AP).—Twenty seamen, employed in the engine-room of the Lena Luckenbach, of the Luckenbach Intercoastal Line, today refused to supply steam for the liner's winches, halting the discharge of 1,200 tons of cargo.

Officials of the line said the seamen had refused to supply steam "because of strike conditions" at the harbor. The twenty men did not walk off the vessel and continued to supply enough steam for the ship's safety. Ship officials said no action would be taken against the men.

B.C. TREASURY BILLS RENEWED

Arrangements Made to Extend Notes Issued in January for Large Sum

While official confirmation was withheld, arrangements for renewal of British Columbia treasury bills in excess of $4,500,000 held by the Canadian Bank of Commerce and due July 1 have been completed, it was understood, yesterday, in Provincial circles. The period and terms of renewal could not be ascertained.

In January last, the Province secured three months' renewal on treasury bills for $3,039,637 and $1,031,000, respectively, as well as for a smaller note for $600,000, issued on December 18. The renewals at that time were until July 1, at 5 per cent interest. At the same time, a year's renewal was secured on British Columbia treasury bills held by the Dominion for $550,000, Ottawa cutting the interest from 5½ to 5 per cent.

While details were withheld, it was definitely understood, yesterday, that satisfactory settlement had been made as to renewal of the notes due on July 1, and payable by the Province.

AUGUST REFUNDING

During July, also, $1,170,000 in interest payments on fixed debt must be met, followed by an external bond maturity of $2,000,000 in New York on August 15. Federal assistance has been promised in regard to the loan payable in American funds. The August refunding will be the first in recent years on which the Province has not suffered heavily on exchange for American funds.

Obscured by other issues, the main facts of Provincial finances remain little changed. Revenues of between $19,000,000 and $20,000,000 are being anticipated for the fiscal year. Outlays in current and capital expenditures will be closer to $30,000,000, of which $2,000,000 is a refunding of old debt; $3,000,000 for relief; $2,500,000 if sinking funds unbudgeted are to be allocated, and $21,609,637 of budgeted expenditures as estimated.

To Honor Memory Of Bishop Perrin At Christ Church

When She Lost 28lbs.

She Gained Energy

This young woman's method of reducing overweight is evidently as beneficial as it is effective, and a letter she writes is therefore worthy of publication:

"I am 24 years of age; height 5 ft. 5¼ ins.; and a short time ago my weight was 28 lbs. above normal. I was listless and without energy. Now after taking Kruschen Salts regularly I have lost 28 lbs. in weight, and have much more vitality. Also I have a very good complexion and I do not have face blemishes of any kind. Surely this must be due to my having pure blood, and I attribute the fact to my taking Kruschen Salts."—(Miss) M.S.

Kruschen combats the cause of fat by assisting the internal organs to throw off each day those waste products and poisons which would otherwise be converted by the body's chemistry into fatty tissue. (Advt.)

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

INCREASING WEIGHT IN UNDERWEIGHT BOYS

A physician at a private school for boys undertook to find out why some of the boys were underweight.

Now a certain degree of underweight may be natural in a large number of these cases, but Dr. T. N. Horan, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., says that the causes of underweight in this particular school are as follows:

1.—There is a natural or fundamental unexplained taste for food low in food value, a fondness for "dainty" dishes, and an avoidance, or absolute distaste for fats; that is, a thin boy eating a chop will take only the lean portion and leave the fat. Similarly, boys having blood that is low in iron, may not by choice take foods rich in iron. For example, an apple pie containing raisins will be eaten completely except for the raisins, which are rich in iron.

2.—There has heretofore been no instruction given these thin boys about the value of certain foods in increasing weight.

3.—Sometimes a boy may have a short body on a pair of long legs, and with this short body there is likely to be a short small intestine. It is from the small intestine that the blood absorbs the nourishment from the food. There would thus be less absorbing surface in a "short" small intestine.

4.—Overactivity (in football, basketball and track) is often a cause.

5.—An ailment fairly common among underweights is chronic appendicitis with acute attacks from time to time. This is bound to keep the weight low.

6.—There appears to be a relationship between poor posture (carriage of the body), lordosis ("hollow back") and underweight.

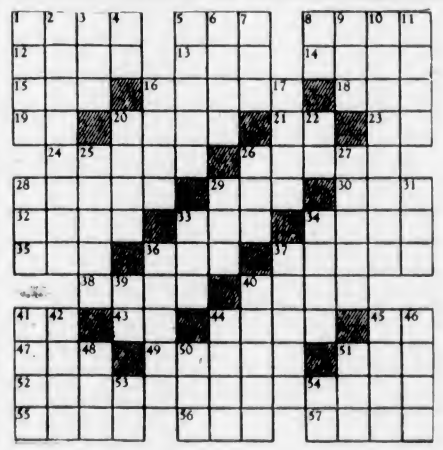

The method of increasing weight was to give for three days about half the usual amount of food the boy needed. This was found to be an excellent way to stimulate the appetite.

For the following two days the regular or usual amount of food necessary for the age and height was given.

For the following fifty days from one-quarter to one-half more than the usual amount of food was given.

The only "symptoms" from this increased amount of food was a little fullness or distension in the stomach, none below the stomach; and a little drowsiness or sleepiness. These symptoms were overcome by going back to the normal diet for a week, and then back again to the increased diet.

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

CHOOSING THE RIGHT LEAD

When a bridge player, out of all the cards in his hand, selects what is apparently the killing opening to defeat a slam bid, his feelings can better be imagined than described when, upon being placed in the lead again, he is compelled to make a subsequent lead which gives back all the advantage.

This was the unhappy experience of the West player in the hand below in playing against Mr. John Sherman and Mr. Horace Block. Mr. Sherman held the North hand and Mr. Block the South.

East, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs).

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1♠	2♠(1)
Pass(2)	3◇(3)	4♠(4)	6◇(5)
Pass	Pass	Pass

1. The immediate overcall in the opponents' bid suit, forcing to game.
2. It would seem that East might take some action here, but he decides to wait and listen.
3. Mr. Block, with a trickless hand, decides to show a bust by bidding a minor rather than encourage his partner by bidding his four-card major suit.
4. Even at four spades West cannot be badly hurt. Apparently he has nine certain tricks in his hand.
5. Fearing that any other bid will be dropped by South, Mr. Sherman decides to bid the small slam at once rather than risk playing against the possibility of the club suit being bunched in one of the adverse hands.

West, correctly deciding that Mr. Sherman was void of spades, opened his singleton heart, and it appeared to Mr. Block that he must inevitably be defeated. He won the trick with the ace and decided to play for a two-two break in the diamond suit. He therefore laid down the diamond ace, upon which West played the queen. Then he laid down another diamond, and found fortunately that West was forced to win.

It appeared that a heart trick must still be cashed by the East and West players. Therefore both North and South were elated when West returned a spade. East began a verbal castigation of his partner's "dumbness" in failing to continue with the heart lead, to the first round of which he had played the king; and he was scarcely content with his partner's explanation that he was unable to lead a suit in which he had no cards remaining.

TOMORROW'S HAND

THE FIRST CANADIAN

It is fitting that one of the new sets of stamps to be issued for the anniversary of Confederation should memorialize the coming of Jacques Cartier four hundred years ago to the shores of the future Dominion of Canada. The courageous mariner of St. Malo was the first Canadian. Through him the Indian name of Canada became a world name. To the wooded wilderness where aboriginal savages roamed, Cartier's ship as it touched Gaspe's pebbly beach brought the civilization of forty centuries. Although he himself did not settle here he was the pioneer of the order that was to be—cities, cathedrals, legislative halls, skyscrapers, hotels, hospitals, grain elevators, railways, airplanes, and all that marks the Canada of 1934.

The first Canadian was a Frenchman. In the observance this year of the quatercentenary of its discovery, Canada will be reminded that its earliest settlers spoke the language of la belle France. Those who laid the foundations were men and women of the Latin tradition. The cross the discoverer erected at Gaspe bore the fleur de lis. For twenty-two decades the lilied flag of France flew on the banks of the St. Lawrence. Champlain built his fortress at Quebec in 1608, nearly a century and a half before Cornwallis founded Halifax. A fresh reading of history, such as Francis Parkman so graphically pictures in his memorable volumes, will visualize to the present-day English-speaking Canadian his native land as having been born and nurtured under a French regime. When the French-speaking citizens of Quebec Province call themselves, not French-Canadians, but Canadians simply, they have history on their side.

The priority of the French people in the growth of Canada and their contribution to Canadianism as a whole should be given more attention, especially by citizens of the Western provinces. A newspaper contemporary has made the excellent suggestion that Canadian youth be given a course of study in Canada's early days. Great personalities walk across the stage: Champlain, skilled fighter, daring explorer, a father of the little colony, and pure in life in a licentious age; the knightly Maissoneuve, founder of Montreal; Abbe Laval and Intendant Talon, so well portrayed in the late Miss Ermatinger Fraser's story; Jogues, Brebeuf and Lalemant, missionaries of immortal memory; Dollard the dauntless; Count Frontenac, first settler at Kingston, Ont.; besides such women as Madame de la Peltrie and Mademoiselle Jean Mance.

Such as these laid the foundations of Canada, but it was written by destiny that the English should build thereon, and on the Plains of Abraham in 1759 the fleur de lis was displaced by the Union Jack. The transfer of rule was of an unusual type. The French were conquered but not subjugated; they remained free men. They retained their language, religion, civil laws and customs. They swore allegiance to King George but moved freely along their customary Gallic paths.

They were freer under a rule which gave them the Habeas Corpus Act and self-government. The large way in which Britain dealt with the French colony bred a loyalty which resisted shortly after the appeal of the new republic at Washington. It was a French-Canadian who said that the last gun to be fired for loyalty to the British Crown would be fired by a Frenchman. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, himself a son of Quebec Province and an ardent Britisher, has pointed out the salutary influence the dual Canadian nation had in the formation of the Dominion of South Africa. The historian will recall that Sir Georges A. Cartier and Sir Etienne Tache were foremost leaders in Confederation. The assimilation of the British political spirit by the Canadian French is one of the most interesting facts of history.

What is the contribution that is being made to the total life of Canada by the French element? Surely religion must be emphasized. The pioneers planted the cross as their first act and churches adorn every village along the St. Lawrence. French-Canadians, too, are home-makers and home-lovers and divorce is noticeably absent. Thrifty and honest, they are like their fellow Anglo-Saxon citizens in their attachment to the soil. Of a cheery nature, song is a second form of speech to the habitants, the like of whose chansons are not to be found among any of the British strains. A certain fineness marks even the inhabitants of rural communities. Tact, urbanity and moderation are characteristic. The French-Canadian has his distinctive genius. He may not be a business man after the manner of Englishman or Scot, or an idealist like the Highlander, and not much a lover and fighter as the Irish. The spirit of Quebec is clean, homelike, alert, faithful, kindly, flowering out in literature, song and deeds.

The French-Canadian spirit is an essential part of the total Canadian spirit. It has grown side by side with the English spirit without much admixture as yet, due mainly to the difference in language and religion. The contacts have been mostly political as at Ottawa, and in social and literary circles in Montreal. Both sides of the house would be better for a greater knowledge of each other. The result would be an improved mutual understanding. There might well be greater reciprocity in learning French to square with the average French-Canadian's knowledge of English. Translated quotations by French and English newspapers from each other's columns would bring a better understanding. The effort of the Canadian Radio Commission to supply French programmes is surely defensible in view of considerations such as these. The Dominion Drama Festival is also one of the coordinating forces. It would be a distinct step in the evolution of Canada were the present celebration to lead to a closer rapprochement between the people of these two racial origins.

The future of Canada lies not in separation but in unity. The land from Gaspe and Cape Breton to Vancouver Island is one land of one people. Diverse viewpoints and competing interests are inevitable but there is a Canada in which these are gathered up into a higher unity. It is the part of statesmen to lead the citizens into this Canada, not to fret at the process but to patiently and earnestly work towards the ideal of a great nation of composite strains, all the better because composite, as both the British and French themselves are.

The future of Canada lies in the fusion of the various elements into an alloy better than any of its components. Canada is not a transplanted England, or an old France in a new world, or a Scotland on the North American Continent. It is a blend of these and of more. It is a young nation moving under new circumstances and unprecedented environment into a new order of life. For such a nation there are still greater achievements than have been registered. If the survey from 1534 to 1934 is exhilarating, what may not be the shining prospect of the next four centuries?

HENRY COTTON'S FEAT

The British Open Golf Championship, after many lean years in British golf, has again been won by a native of Britain. The victory, too, has been a substantial one. There were entries from many countries, and a small but thoroughly proficient coterie of golfers from the United States, which for so long seemed to have a monopoly in winning this great sporting event. Henry Cotton recorded almost phenomenal rounds in the first two of the four for the championship. It is true he faltered, and badly for a golfer of his calibre, in the last eighteen holes. His lead, however, was so great that he could afford to be rattled by the prospect of victory so well within his grasp.

Cotton is one of England's best professionals. He has been the winner of many major tournaments and one of the most consistent of performers. In his feat, which concluded yesterday, he equaled the record of Gene Sarazen when the latter won the British Open with 283 strokes. A number of Britishers were high up on the list. Obviously, professional golf across the Atlantic is again coming into its own. Similar success is attending the British in tennis, and there is also notable improvement in other forms of sport. The lean years in sporting prowess which followed the Great War, when the flower of British manhood fell on the battlefields, are passing.

MIRROR

The crickets in the meadows tune
Their fiddles in a thousand keys,
And, like an anxious nurse, the moon
Peers through her mist and counts the trees.

The spider settles in her net,
And quietly the willow bows,
And all the drowsy bees forget
Their tender speeches to the rose.

A lazy peewee drawls his song,
And cellarward departs the toad,
And ants go trudging home along
A little garden's crooked road.

"How splendid," sighs the firefly,
Perched on a poppy's dizzy height;
"I only have to watch the sky
To know I'm properly alight!"

THEY WILL SING AGAIN

They will sing again
Of Spring,
Of smiling skies, rain-washed and clear;
And I, alone remembering, shall know

Of moonlit seas; and only I shall know
There is no love—who loved you so.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Order means light and peace, inward liberty and free command over one's self; order is power.—Amiel.

Not so very long ago the dream of social and economic reformers was dictatorship by the proletariat. In the earlier days of the economic history of the world the proletariat did all the work, or at least all the hard work, and the idle class had all the fun. That is to say, the class known as the proletariat were slaves in the human economic hive and the preferred class were the drones. But the world moves and society in the world revolts. There was a time, and that time was not so very long ago, when the term wage slaves was quite common on the tongues of labor reformers.

* * *

There has been a humming and the sound of going in the human economic hive, which portends a state of agitation. The drones in the insect system serve a certain purpose, but the proletariat of the human system argue that drones are merely idlers, are consumers without being producers, and are only worthy of the wages of death. The object of the advocates of the new economic system is to turn the hive upside down and set the class which used to be at the bottom on the top.

* * *

Defenders of the existing economic system frequently state that the free people of the nations will never submit to dictatorships. Yet dictatorships are being formed and are beginning to prevail. You will see by the papers every morning and evening that a proletariat is proclaiming itself superior to the law and preventing men who are willing to work from working. You will also see by the papers that the proletariat is preventing a Canadian broadcasting station from broadcasting except upon terms dictated by a foreign dictatorship. If you read the papers more carefully you will see that a foreign dictatorship is dictating the terms under which musical organizations may perform for the enlightenment and entertainment of the common people of both the United States and Canada.

* * *

The arbitrary musical authority which has been established did not come into existence since the adoption of codes under the National Recovery Act. It began its job of dictating some years ago and created a revolution in the theatrical and operatic business of this and some other countries. But the management of amusement concerns resented attempted dictatorship by arbitrary authority, and the effect upon professional musicians was disastrous. Philosophers tell us that there is always a direct relation between cause and effect; that action is always followed by reaction. The managers of the theatres and music houses refused to employ their musical "wage slaves" on the arbitrary terms fixed by the proletariat dictatorship. They substituted for their orchestras something which satisfied the public and thousands of professional musicians lost their jobs. Among the ten millions of common people still unemployed in the United States there must be thousands of musicians. We suppose it is for the purpose of alleviating the effect of the first mistake that the new dictatorship is making the greater mistake of attempting to fix the terms upon which bands shall play in all the cities of Canada and the United States.

* * *

The intentions of the President of the United States in entering upon the experiment of a general National Recovery Act were well meant, and ultimately may justify the high expectations of the masses of the people who are standing loyally behind the presidential and Brain Trust programme, but the danger is that interests and individuals with selfish ends to serve may take advantage of the provisions of the act for the purpose of creating dictatorships. That is precisely what is happening. There are disorders breaking out in many parts of the country and they are extending into Canada. And the authorities are either in sympathy with the dictators or they have not the power to preserve order and enforce the laws.

* * *

The reaction to this deplorable state of affairs may force the hands of the constitutional authorities and compel them to establish an unconstitutional authority with all the powers of a national dictator. Italy was in a state of anarchy when Mussolini created a world sensation by declaring himself the dictatorial saviour of his country. The proletariat no doubt reasons that if it has the power to close all the great ports on the Pacific Coast of America for more than a month it has the power to turn the economic hive upside down and sit in triumph on the top of it. This idea may seem absurd, but it is no more absurd than the proclaimed dreams of many of the revolutionists on our own side of the international border. The police everywhere have been organized and unionized, have wide international affiliations, and their class sympathies may conflict with their sense of duty.

FEAR DOMINATES JAPAN'S POLICY

Rev. Dr. A. F. Robb, Thirty Years in Korean Missionary Work, Discusses Eastern Problem

HALIFAX, June 29 (CP).—"The mainspring of Japan's policy in the Orient is fear," declared Rev. Dr. A. F. Robb, for thirty-two years a missionary in Korea, speaking before a local club. "Japan is afraid of China and what she will become in the future, and her old fear of Russia is reviving," he declared. Japan did not take Manchukuo to make an outlet for her manufactured goods, the Korean missionary opined.

"What Japan really did want was control of the food supply to round out her empire with possessions on the mainland. She would also like to possess that part of Siberia jutting down towards the Sea of Japan. For she is afraid of the air force that Russia is rumored to be building there," he continued.

"It is is only 400 miles from Vladivostok to Japan by air, but she cannot afford to fight with Russia, so having bluffed her way into control of Manchuria, she is now trying to bluff her way to gaining a protectorate of China—in spite of it being a violation of the Nine Power Treaty," Dr. Robb said.

THE "DUNMORA" GARDEN PARTY

Sir,—When one has neither news nor views, the last alternative is a spice of humor.

Just now it is blossom time for parties, and the florescence will attain large proportions at Mount Newton on Saturday. Cars will be parked at the place indicated and a Warden of the Marches, an old term with a new meaning, will be on hand, for the visitors will walk from their cars down a smooth driveway to a house in a garden, the whole bejeweled on a terrace, ringed round by the sea.

The word "sea" is misleading.

If one were taken in a state of coma to Saanich Arm, aroused from the trance, and told to behold the Italian lake—say Lake Como—one would be apt to conclude the dream had not passed, but that an enchanting phase of it had set in.

Rudyard Kipling, after a visit to Victoria, desired to say something nice about it, so he took his cue from the lover—thy grace and poise like this, thine eyes like that—so he referred to the Riviera, the Bay of Naples, the Vale of Cashmere and other charming places, and implied: "Thou art this and more—Victoria!"

Following this lead, one can ask the Englishman to compare Saanich Arm with Lake Derwentwater, and take a seat to await his reply, and to the Scot suggest, that from "Dunmora's" unrivaled point of view, he can imagine himself looking across Loch Katrine and Ellen's Isle.

The ladies of the lake have done so much, no one will have the heart not to come; and if romantic beauty and murmuring pines and lapping water are only secondary, they can enjoy tea, talk, and eat goody-goodies under the yum-yum trees.

POLICE OF SHANGHAI

Sir,—Your correspondent in Shanghai, according to your today's issue, appears to have little knowledge of the status of that international settlement when he alludes to "British International Settlement police officers."

There are no British police officers in Shanghai, and never have been for the last thirty or forty years.

Whilst it is true that many of the police officers in Shanghai are of British nationality, there are many of other nationalities, including Japanese, all of whom are in the employ of a council elected by the ratepayers of all nationalities, which council, in turn, is subject to a court of consuls representing all nationalities.

The Municipal Police were quite in order in arresting rowdy sailors of Japanese or any other nationality, and it has always been the practice when this is done to hand them over to their own authorities.

It is a pity your correspondent does not realize that his misstatement might easily give rise to embitterment against one national and possible further trouble.

E. Q. COOPER.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of June 30, 1884)

Creates Panic—A man created a panic in a Montreal hotel one day last week by thrusting his head into the dining-room and shouting out "Here comes an officer from New York with a warrant." It was several hours before the most nervous guests could be persuaded to come out of the woods and return to their meals.

Post Office—The new boxes, 500 in number, are now completed in the post office, and are ready for rental. A large number of them are already taken, all of the lock drawers having been rented a month ago. The addition of these boxes has made a decided improvement in the appearance of the office, and the increased accommodation for the distribution of the mail and transaction of business meets with general approval, and will no doubt be sufficient for the requirements for some time to come.

Leaves Cathedral—W. M. Cross, organist of the Christ Church Cathedral for the past three years, played for the last time on Sunday evening. He played one of his own compositions to begin the programme, and for the closing voluntary played a grand march, also of his own composing. He leaves the cathedral assured of having the appreciation of the congregation, and their confidence of his attaining a high place in the future. It is understood that he soon intends to take a thorough course of study under the best masters.

Girl Babies Source Of Wealth to Proud Fathers of Nigeria

Sold in Marriage Market for High Prices But Are Given Little Consideration When They Grow Old, Gordon Sinclair Learns

By GORDON SINCLAIR

NEAR JEBBA, Nigeria.—The Hindu mother is disgraced if she bears no children to crack her husband's skull when they carry his corpse to the burning ghat beside Mother Ganges. In China they don't even count girl babies among the family children. Ask the father of two boys and three girls how many children he has, and his answer is two. Throughout the Orient women are serfs or sycophants.

But here on the banks of Africa's muddy Niger, girls are the pride of a father's eye and bankroll. Girls represent a steady income. Girls spell prestige and wealth and many are engaged, for high fees, before they are born!

FETCH GIDDY PRICES

Girls can be sold for giddy prices in the marriage market, particularly fat girls. Like cars, refrigerators, engagement rings or oil stock, they can be bought on the cuff at sky-high interest and if the payments are not kept up, in walks the bailiff.

Girls do all the trading in the bazaars and dicker in everything from dried owl's eyes to monkey blood or dress suits. Even the king's wives have stalls at market.

To have a girl servant in your home is equal to having a bevy of butlers in Canada, and they get three times the pay of boys.

Girls are sorceresses, witches, magicians and creators of love charms and dream pills. Girls are admitted to sacred ju ju houses and hold high-sounding offices in the secret societies which splatter the coast like alibis on a golf course. There are girls in this valley called pythonesses who can cure disease by hugging their patient like a snake and then having an actual serpent, usually a fat thirty-footer, coil around the two of them.

Cockeyed, you say? Of course, it's cockeyed; only it works!

Drifting up river today I began to notice, though, that life for the African female was a descending life. For the man it was ascending. The bazaar which flanked the water-front told the story. Young girls, plump and shiny, sat admiring themselves in looking glasses. They curled each other's hair, dabbed their faces with powders, wore fancy togs and loafed as the well-fed African delights in loafing.

Young men sweated under staggering loads; rowed boats, drove cattle, climbed for palm oil. The girls, you see, were worth fifteen to fifty cows each. The young men, spurred on by ambition or love or whatever it is, were working hard to buy one of these girls.

THE DESCENDING SCALE

Middle-aged men worked, too; but not so hard. Middle-aged women minded babies, carried loads and ran the market.

Old men, now respected as wise patriarchs, spent their days in idle gossip, inevitable visits to each other and cunning matrimonial intrigues concerning their steady crop of daughters. Each daughter represented gold to the father; nothing to the mother.

It was the old woman, creased and dried, who excited my pity. Many were naked; all were underfed. The smooth, shiny curves of youth were now tattooed in higgleed-piggledy lines, mouths were loose and toothless and legs shrivelled to mere bone. Husbands who had proudly and fiercely worked to earn these women, had been borne many children by them, had long since turned them adrift. First to a younger man for a cow or two, then he, gaining wealth, simply chucked them out of his mud hut to live as best they could.

Old men, no matter how drunken, cruel or worthless they had been, gained respect and admiration with their greying hairs. It was all a bit pathetic.

FIRST HIPPOS

I saw and heard my first hippos today as we rounded a sweeping crescent of the Niger. The great river hogs were snorting and plunging about like happy porpoises. As we coasted up quite unarmed, they sat up like the kind of hippos you see in Mickey Mouse and stared.

Their little piggy eyes looked us over in silence then, satisfied that we were harmless, they went on plunging and snuffing about in the soupy stream like so many kids at the swimming hole.

A mile or so farther on I spotted a white man ashore, so drifted in and found him cursing every black savage who ever set foot in all Africa. On the ground was a bull. A dead bull. Near the bull was an empty stone jar.

"Scalded to death," the white man was saying.

"What's scalded to death?"

"This bullock. These human fiends will do anything under heaven to get beef; and they go get it twice a week. Today they came to report this fellow dead. From housemaid's knee or a broken heart or something. He just die, finish. You'll get to know that bland palaver. But this is the fourth I've lost in two weeks. And I've just found the answer. They've been pouring boiling water down his throat, that's what. Scalding him to death. He appears to have just up and died; there is no mark. Well, I'll show them——"

He slashed great gashes in the carcass and filled them with rat poison and bug killer. It made an ugly mess. Not even a vulture could enjoy this meal now.

TWO ON A HORSE

This rancher's bungalow was several miles away, but he had a beautiful horse, so I climbed up behind him and we trotted across the dried pampas land. The horse is proud proof, over here, that sleeping sickness has passed by, because the tsetse fly kills horses before men. We're tougher.

We'd gone about a mile when he pointed to some deep impressions filled with water near a swamp edge. "Elephant," he said. "There's two about, but both cows."

We jogged on. It was no fun trying to hug the rump of that bouncing horse without riding kit. My bare knees began to rub raw, so I was glad when we stopped in the inevitable red mud village where there was the inevitable tub-thumping of tribal drums. "Bit of a do here," the rancher said. "It ought to prove something or other to you journalist Johnnies."

"Prove what?" "Well the head lad here, the Bale (as in Ballyhoo), has been down country for a month. His wives here, thirty-one of them, thought they'd better get up a posh party when he came back and this is it. But they thought they'd better get him a nice present, too. So they bought him another wife."

We dismounted and went over to greet the old king, who was paying no attention whatever to his new bride. He got up to shake hands and collapsed in a heap. Good natured yes-men uncorked whoops of glee and lifted him up. He fell again. Everybody thought that was swell because everybody, like the king, was comfortably sozzled. He invited me to stop with him and get sozzled, too, but we jogged on to the ranch house where the beef baron spent the evening bewailing the fates that had ever brought him to Africa. There were two rough mahogany crosses in the compound; one for his brother, one for his wife.

"White man's grave," he snorted. "Have a cigar."

African Girl Engaged Before She Is Born.

The high value set for African women as against their colored sisters in other parts of the world has done much to elevate the status of womenhood in pagan Africa, Gordon Sinclair today tells of their life in a brilliant article.

contributed largely to the deficit last year of over $100,000,000.

As a result of legislation passed at the session now ending, Canada will possess machinery for the setting up of a central bank, privately owned, but largely Government controlled; elaborate regulations designed to facilitate the marketing of natural products; farm mortgage debt adjustment legislation based on a common recognition of all concerned that the agricultural producer must be kept on the land in efficient production free from the constant pressure of debts he cannot pay.

RELIEF WORKS

A $40,000,000 public works programme for relief purposes was passed. A new and simplified system of compiling voters' lists, a new Companies Act to harmonize the corporation laws of the Provinces and the Dominion, important amendments to the Criminal Code, Excise and Customs Acts, and a long list of less important statutory changes and consolidations received approval.

SCHOOL GIVES FINE RECITAL

Large Audience Greets Victoria School of Expression Pupils Here

Adult and junior pupils of the Victoria School of Expression, under the direction of Mrs. Wilfrid Ord, presented another delightful evening of entertainment at the New Thought Temple, Fort Street, last night, which was attended by a large audience.

It was the second speech and song recital to be given by the school, the first being presented last Friday evening, and was up to the usual high standard set by the pupils on that occasion.

ASSIST IN PROGRAMME

Those taking part were Thomas McMartin, Freda Nattrass, Jean Drummond, Donald Sand, Winnie Moorhouse, Robert Wilkinson, George Little, Phyllis Going, Opal Abercrombie, Clemency Ord, Geraldine Williamson, John Cameron, Reta Gallie, Leslie Clarke, Margaret Drummond, Mildred Barker, Captain Wilfrid Ord, Hilda Kyle, Ronald McDonald, Nina Grieg, Dorothy Davies, Amelia Sievert, Pat Webber, Lorna Barker, Harry Potter, Carol Watson, Kathleen Craig, Lilian Pithkethley, William McPhail, Marianne R. Dobbin, Ivy Bowles, the adult choir, the junior choir, the Fireside Group, Christine McKenzie, of Nanaimo, and Mrs. Oldham, of Duncan.

Dr. James Lyon, of Trinity College of Music, London, gave a short address. Dr. Lyon is now on his way to New Zealand for five months.

VALUE OF ELOCUTION

Dr. Lyon said if he had his way he would make every singer learn elocution. "From most of the singers you cannot hear a word that is being sung. You cannot afford to do that unless you are a prima donna," he said. He mentioned the work Mrs. Ord was doing in Victoria, and intimated singers were in capable hands with regard to elocution, without gestures.

Before the close of the programme, Mrs. Ord and Captain Ord were the recipients of gifts from members of the choirs and the pupils.

G. A. BUCKLIN TRANSFERRED

United States Consul Here Appointed to Wellington New Zealand

Hon. George A. Bucklin, who has been United States Consul at Victoria for the last nine years, has been appointed Consul-General at Wellington, New Zealand, according to advice received by him yesterday from the State Department at Washington, D.C. Mr. Bucklin and his family plan to leave for Wellington some time in August.

Theodore Jaeckel, who has been Consul-General at Zurich, Switzerland, will take over the Victoria post, it was announced at Washington a few days ago.

Mr. Bucklin, who is a graduate of Yale University, joined the United States foreign service in 1906, when Theodore Roosevelt was president. Previous to that, he had been on the staff of the University of Oklahoma for two years. He has filled posts in Glauchau, Germany; two in Mexico, Guatemala, Bordeaux and Paris, France; Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and Coblenz, Germany, where he was with the United States Commission after the Great War.

Mr. Bucklin came to Victoria from Acapulco, Mexico, and since coming to the Capital City, he, and members of his family, have taken an active part in the city's social and musical life, which won for them a wide circle of friends, who will regret their leaving.

COUNCIL FIXES ELECTION DATE

Polling Will Take Place July 13—Charles Bishop May Be Candidate

The City Council, at a special meeting held yesterday, set the nomination date and polling date for the by-election to be held for the purpose of filling the vacancy created on the school board by the death of Trustee J. L. Beckwith. Friday, July 13, was selected for polling day.

Charles R. Bishop, a candidate for trustee in the last civic election, took out nomination papers yesterday.

If a contest is provided, then the polling will be held in the Public Market Building from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Friday, July 13. Nominations will be officially received in the council chamber between 12 o'clock noon and 2 p.m. on July 9.

Mass Buying Committee to Be Turned Into Royal Commission to Continue Investigation

OTTAWA, June 29 (CP).—The Parliamentary mass buying committee, which will be turned into a Royal Commission to continue its investigation of unfair business practices, wage scales and general labor laws, will not resume public hearings for six or eight weeks, it was announced tonight. The first hearings will be in the Maritimes, probably relating to the fishing industry.

The committee today reported to the House, recommending it be changed to a commission so as to function while Parliament was not in session. This will be done before the House rises, but it may be some days before all technical points have been removed.

stable Percy Carr, also alleged to have been slain on the Canford Indian Reserve, May 23, but whose body has not been recovered.

"I am not prepared to say that I could tell the blood of an Indian from the blood of a white person," Inspector Vance said.

Henry Castillou, defence counsel, cross-examined the inspector, who said a blood stain on a half length of railroad tie, produced as evidence, might have come from a person who had collapsed on it with a wound in the head such as the defence claims was suffered by Joseph George, a fourth brother, after a shot was allegedly fired by Gisborne. Joseph is now under medical care in Vancouver.

Further examination of Inspector Vance established the fact that the single shot fired came from the small automatic pistol carried by Constable Gisborne; that the shot was one of a clip of six, and that the gun had apparently jammed when the first shell refused to eject from the breech.

There was a total of 13,557 vehicles sold for $14,000,151 in May, 12,080 for $12,603,208 in April, and 7,539 for $7,383,514 in May, 1933.

CIVIC AFFAIRS ARE DISCUSSED

Ratepayers' Association Executive Deals With Duplicating Services

The executive of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association held an intensely interesting meeting in the committee room of the City Hall, last night, considerable interest being evinced in several important civic matters. Frank LeRoy presided.

Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter and those who supported him were commended for the manner in which they were reviving the question of the northwest sewer connection for Saanich, and the sanitary conditions in that municipality bordering the city.

Duplication of services also came under discussion, including the question of the city having two building inspectors, one for schools and a general building inspector. This matter will be dealt with at greater length at a later meeting.

A MILITANT FACTOR

James Parritt gave a talk similar to one he gave at the Real Estate Board luncheon, in which he pointed out the need to strengthen the membership of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association, and make it a militant factor in the fight to safeguard the public's interest.

After his address, it was decided to hold a special meeting devoted solely to the question of increasing the power of the Association, by strengthening its membership.

Three Chinese Charged With Assault Sentenced by Judge Lampman in County Court

After three days' trial in the County Court, Judge P. S. Lampson reached the conclusion last evening that Ding Van Jung, Bang B. Gong and Yip Sing were guilty of the attack upon Foy Chan Ten, on March 3, on the street in Chinatown, in which the complainant was severely wounded. He sentenced each of the convicted men to nine months in jail with hard labor, with a fine in each case added of $250, or in default of payment of this fine, six months' further imprisonment.

The three Chinese, upon having the conviction interpreted to them, each in turn declared through the interpreter their innocence of the crime. They were charged with having assaulted the complainant, occasioning actual bodily harm.

The offence was alleged to have been connected with a boycott, which had been declared against certain Chinese firms in Victoria and Vancouver by fellow countrymen of the merchants. The assault took place in broad daylight just before noon.

The accused were defended by W. C. Moresby, K.C., while Henry Hall, K.C., represented the Crown in the presecution in the County Court. In police court at the preliminary hearing, when the accused were committed for trial, Frank Higgins, K.C., appeared for the prosecution.

With a great array of witnesses on both sides, Judge Lampman had to decide upon which of the witnesses were to be relied upon and to what extent their evidence was correct. He intimated that the evidence of the witness, Lim Shaw Hong, failed to impress him.

Junior Chamber Protests Works Allotment Here

The money allocated to Victoria by the Federal Government for public works in the city was totally inadequate, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce executive stated at a meeting last night.

The city, they felt, had been discriminated against. On a pro rata basis the chamber believed Victoria would have received a far greater share of the money than that granted.

Victoria will be represented at the Winnipeg conference of Junior Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade, it was decided. No delegate was named. Frank Partridge will represent the city at the provincial conference of the two bodies in Vancouver next Thursday.

A joint luncheon meeting of the Victoria Junior Chamber and the New Westminster Junior Board of Trade will be held here on Wednesday, July 18, the occasion of the citizens of New Westminster annual outing to Victoria.

ROMANTIC STORY CAPITOL FEATURE

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell Together Again in "Change of Heart"

The living-room of a colonial home in Westchester, with an Adam sofa flanking the high-arched fireplace. Triple batteries of lamps ringing the set. A camera poised watchfully on its "dolly." And in the foreground a tiny auburn-haired figure in a brown tailleur whispering excitedly, struggling fiercely with a tall young fellow in a grey suit, finally melting into his arms.

"All right, hold it!" drawls the voice of Director John Blystone. He walks toward the two players, shakes hands with a smile. "That's it. That's the end. Thanks, Janet; thanks, Charlie."

And "Change of Heart," now at the Capitol Theatre, which brings Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell together again after a separation of a year and a half, is completed at the Fox Film studio, the twelfth co-starring vehicle this famous screen team has made.

Taken from Kathleen Norris' story, "Manhattan Love Song," the new offering has been hailed as the funniest as well as the most realistic of all the Gaynor-Farrell successes.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Gracie Fields' claim as the most versatile artiste on the British screen is amply proved in her latest offering, "Love, Life and Laughter," now at the Playhouse Theatre. In it the glamorous star is seen in such diversified roles as orange-seller in London streets; sweetheart; in the police dock; hostess of an inn; a society debutante, and, finally, as guardian angel singing to the children in an orphans' home.

It's been called almost everything but what it is. If you spelled it the way it is pronounced, it would read "Franshow." Tone, who comes from the New York Group Theatre, has made an outstanding name for himself in Hollywood within a short space of time.

EMPIRE THEATRE Heller and Riley, popular N.B.C. stars, will be seen at the Empire Theatre for the last times, today. Also on the same programme is Lester Raymond, the juggling wizard; Mills and Cappy, comedians; Mary Marlow, presenting songs and impressions, and finally, Voncello and Mary in a novelty barrel act.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "Sea Killers," graphic story of the adventures of pearl divers, will be shown at the Columbia Theatre for the last times, today. Many shots are taken under the sea, and show unusual pictures of the monsters of the deep. As the added attraction, the Columbia Theatre is showing Bob Steele in the "Fighting Champ."

HOLIDAY PROGRAMME AT BELMONT CABARET

The management of the Belmont Cabaret has planned a full programme for this holiday week-end. Tonight's dance will feature Betty Clair, in a new and modern dance number, as the floor attraction. Court Takes Car to Inspect Scenes of Alleged Misconduct

Jury in Edmonton Trial Taken to View Brownlee Residence and Rural Roads Referred to in Evidence of Plaintiff

EDMONTON, June 29 (CP).—An abrupt halt in the Civil Court action of Vivian MacMillan, youthful stenographer, against Alberta's Premier, Hon. J. E. Brownlee, came today.

Shortly after court convened this afternoon, defence counsel made an application to have the jury inspect the Brownlee residence, its bedrooms and sleeping accommodations. Members of the jury later requested permission to view rural roads where the plaintiff alleges she motored with the Premier.

COURT ON WHEELS

Court was adjourned while a "court on wheels" visited the Brownlee residence, and then, for nearly two hours, motored along rural roads. The court was officially constituted by the presence of Mr. Justice W. C. Ives, who is presiding at the hearing; the clerk of the court, and the jurymen, with counsel for both parties.

Returning, court was formally adjourned until 10 a.m. on Saturday.

Government employees and other witnesses testified at the morning session for the defence, denying several allegations made by the plaintiff. Previously, the examination of Mrs. Florence Brownlee, the Premier's wife, had been completed. She denied she ever was suspicious of her husband and Vivian MacMillan.

"I think I have the normal woman's intuition and intelligence, and I never saw anything that raised my suspicions," Mrs. Brownlee told counsel.

In cross-examination, Mrs. Brownlee declared she went to the defence of her husband immediately it was made known that suit would be started by Miss MacMillan.

Mrs. Brownlee denied she had endeavored, in aiding the defence of her husband, "to rake up some dirt" against Miss MacMillan.

In quick succession, witnesses, Miss Emily Brown, the Premier's secretary; Fred Smailes, civil service commissioner for Alberta; janitors in the Legislative Buildings and rooming house keepers, were called to the stand.

Smailes, in charge of employment in the Government offices, denied Mr. Brownlee had ever endeavored to secure favors for Miss MacMillan.

EVIDENCE CORROBORATED

Orlon Henry Snow, secretary-treasurer of the town of Raymond, corroborated the evidence of Mr. Brownlee, who denied Miss MacMillan was in the Premier's office on the morning of January 2, 1933. Snow said he visited the Premier's office on official business and was there until about 12:30 p.m. Miss MacMillan had said she visited the Premier between 11 and 12 o'clock noon. Snow declared he went to the office shortly after 11 o'clock.

Several janitors who start work at 1 p.m. on Saturdays were called as defence witnesses. All denied seeing any girls entering the Premier's office after closing time on Saturday, and none had knowledge of Vivian MacMillan going in.

Walter Hancock, for fifteen years a Government janitor, said on Saturday afternoon it was his job to clean the Premier's office.

"Did you ever see any woman enter the Premier's offices after 1 p.m. on Saturdays," asked Mr. Smith.

"No, sir."

Mr. MacLean queried:

"You wouldn't give evidence against the Premier?"

"I wouldn't tell lies for a premier," he replied. "A janitor has some kind of honor."

"LIKE A HOME"

Last witness of the morning was Mrs. Nora Robertson, of Sylvan Lake, Alberta, a friend of Mrs. Brownlee. She said Miss MacMillan had told her the Brownlee home was "like a home to her and Mrs. Brownlee like a mother."

She corroborated evidence that the Premier's wife was a light sleeper, and would awaken at the slightest sound.

NOTICE OF APPEAL

Charles E. Campbell, publisher of The Edmonton Bulletin, fined $300, with the alternative of ten days in prison, on Wednesday, by Mr. Justice W. C. Ives for contempt of court, today filed notice of appeal.

Mr. Campbell, with J. S. Cowper, a staff writer, was summoned before the bar in connection with the newspaper's publication of the reports of the trial.

In his notice of appeal, Mr. Campbell states that he and Mr. Cowper were sentenced within one hour of preemptory summons to the bar; and that legal representation, hurriedly summoned, was denied by the court sufficient time to make representations in defence. The notice further states the alleged contempt was not specified, detailed or stated by the sentencing judge.

Broadcasting May Be Conducted by General Manager

OTTAWA, June 29 (CP).—The radio committee of the Commons came to the conclusion that radio broadcasting could be best conducted by a general manager. In its report, concurred in by the House of Commons, today, it recommended the laws be left as they were for the coming year in respect to the radio commission, but this would not prevent the Government appointing a general manager if it so desires to act with the commission.

The report expressed the conviction that the Government, during the recess, should study changes in the act which would be brought before the House at next session.

TRUCE DECLARED IN MILWAUKEE STRIKE

WENGER WILL SEEK HONORS

Local Trapshooting Expert to Defend B.C. Title on Mainland Monday

Johnny Wenger, provincial trapshooting champion, will head for Vancouver over the week-end to defend his crown against some of the finest clay artists in British Columbia at the annual meet to be held under the auspices of the Vancouver Gun Club. The meeting will be staged Monday, and the Victorian has been training at the local traps with hopes of retaining the silverware and title.

Accompanying the defending champion to the Mainland will be other noted trapshooters including Douglas McGary, a former titleholder, L. Horth, Ellbeck Wilson, Horace Beer, Frank Cross and E. Hasenfratz. There is a possibility that two or three others may make the trip.

WON MAJOR EVENT

Wenger first crashed the spotlight, when he won the British Columbia Pacific International Trapshooters' Association shoot, with a score of 327 out of the possible 350. This was in 1931. In the following year, Wenger captured the doubles honors, with the brilliant score of 49 out of 50, and in 1933, he came through to the singles crown.

McGary is one of the best scatter-gun experts in the business, being a provincial titleholder in 1930. The same year he won the all-round championship, and then traveled to Lake Crescent to the Pacific Coast meet, which he shot in fine style. At Los Angeles in 1932, he was runner-up in the world's tournament, missing the honors by a close margin.

LOOKS INTO COAL TO HEAT BLOCKS

Suggested Increase in Tax on Oil Is Now Under Investigation by Local Interests

At the meeting of the Real Estate Board yesterday, a preliminary report dealing with the subject of the suggested increase of the fuel oil tax, from half a cent a gallon to two and a half cents, together with the effect as far as assisting the Island coal industry, was made by James A. Bennell, who has been asked to go into the matter. Mr. Bonnell said that Dr. Carrothers, of the British Columbia Economic Council, had been seen on the matter, but he had said that in any event there would be no action until the Government had passed on the subject.

The increase of the tax to that suggested, said the report, was felt to be more than the users of oil for heating buildings in the city could stand. In any event, the present tax was all that the Government should expect to get, if the matter of taxation only were considered. To increase the tax would mean that users could not stand it. It would mean 50 per cent of the cost of the oil.

STOKERS NEEDED

From the other standpoint, that of forcing the use of coal, Mr. Bennell pointed out that the investigations showed that Island coal would not be benefited. Nanaimo coal, it was represented, would not be useable on account of the smoke nuisance, unless stokers were put into use. Users of oil would have to go to wood or Alberta coal.

The only alternative would be that the Island collieries should put in stokers. This aspect was being looked into at the present time. The colliery owners were investigating to see if there was anything practicable in this respect.

President J. T. Goodlake said the matter had come before the local body from Vancouver. Beaumont Boggs felt that the dealers should be asked to report upon what they were required to pay for coal.

It was decided to ask the committee to continue its investigations.

Little Bedtime Stories

Reddy Fox Dares Prickly Porky

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

The little meadow people and forest folk could hardly believe the evidence of their eyes when they saw Prickly Porky walk right up to Farmer Brown's boy and then calmly turn his back and walk away unharmed. They just gazed with eyes and mouths wide open with astonishment as Farmer Brown's boy tramped off through the Green Forest. Then they hastened to pay their respects to Prickly Porky and to tell him how brave they thought him. The Merry Little Breezes were very much ashamed to think that they had called him a boaster because he had said that he was not afraid, and they very meekly told him so.

Prickly Porky's little eyes twinkled. "Some folk would say that I was very stupid instead of brave," said he, "but I wasn't either. You see I was sure that he wouldn't hurt me, so why should I have been afraid? If you mind your own affairs and never let people think that you are afraid you will seldom have cause to fear."

Only Reddy Fox was disappointed. Reddy was already jealous of Prickly Porky. He had hoped to see Prickly Porky come to grief. He is a great boaster himself, and, like most boasters, he is at heart a coward.

"You was simply lucky, that's all," said Reddy, swaggering out where every one could see him. "That wasn't bravery; it was just foolishness. I'll dare you to go up to Farmer Brown's house with me tonight and steal one of his chickens."

"You mean you don't dare go!" retorted Reddy Fox. "You're afraid; that's what's the matter!"

Prickly Porky began to come down the tree again and Reddy Fox began to edge away.

"Who's afraid now?" piped a shrill voice. It sounded very much like Peter Rabbit.

Reddy sent an ugly glance in Peter's direction, but Peter seemed to be very innocently looking down the Lone Little Path.

"Let's go right up to Farmer Brown's now," said Prickly Porky.

"What! In broad daylight?" cried Reddy Fox.

"Why not? It's a nice pleasant walk. Come on, unless you're afraid," replied Prickly Porky.

Reddy suddenly remembered some very important business. "I'm very sorry," he lied glibly, "but I have an engagement down on the Green Meadows which I must attend to right away. I'll meet you here when the moon rises tonight." With this Reddy started off down the Lone Little Path and pretended not to hear the laughter of the little meadow people and forest folk who had been listening.

With this Reddy started off down the Lone Little Path

Many Measures Passed At Annual Convention

Catholic Women's League Adopts Resolutions Bearing on Birth Control and Modesty in Dress —Mrs. J. Coffey, Montreal, President

In their final day's agenda, the convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, which concluded its annual sessions yesterday, adopted resolutions bearing on modesty in dress, birth control and sterilization, unemployment relief, and elimination of armaments for private profit.

The other important business of the day was the election of officers, resulting as follows:

President, Mrs. J. Coffey, Montreal; first vice-president, Miss Florence Boland, Toronto; second vice-president, Mrs. T. H. Hay, Regina; third vice-president, Mrs. F. J. Fulton, Kamloops; fourth vice-president, Mrs. C. J. Brennan, Kingston; fifth vice-president, Mrs. M. F. Ronan, Antigonish; honorary secretary, Mrs. E. E. Landry, Calgary; honorary treasurer, Miss Eva M. Dillon, Edmonton.

Ottawa was chosen as convention city for 1935.

IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS

Among the resolutions passed were the following:

Modesty in Dress—Resolved, that we view with distress the use of indecent modes in bathing apparel supplied by the various manufacturers and that our members be asked to refrain from buying extreme styles in these garments and demand that a covering which complies with ordinary decency be put on sale.

Birth Control and Sterilization—Resolved, that we restate the position taken at last year's convention on the subject of birth control and sterilization and express ourselves as opposed to all forms of artificial birth control and refuse to buy magazines that carry advertisements of contraceptives. Further, that we deplore the passing of legislative measures to procure sterilization.

Resolved, that we extend to the president of the Victoria diocesan subdivision our sympathy in her continued illness, the expression of our personal sense of loss at not being able to share with her the pleasures of this convention and our sincere wish that she may be speedily restored to health.

Acting Hostess President — Resolved, that we convey the sincere thanks and deep appreciation of the members assembled in convention for the gracious and elegant reception accorded to us by the acting hostess of the Victoria subdivision, Miss Harriet O'Brien, and her splendid co-workers.

TO HELP UNEMPLOYED

Relief System—Whereas the present system of relief in Canada is conducive of many evils, including discontent, mental and physical deterioration and a growing volume of lassitude and inertia on the part of the unemployed, therefore, be it resolved that we, the Catholic Women's League of Canada, in convention assembled, wish to go on record as being in favor of a public works programme that will, at least temporarily, relieve the depression, and do away with the payment of direct relief except to those physically unfit for work.

World Peace—Whereas, it is the earnest wish and prayer of the Holy Father that individuals, organizations, and in fact, all Catholics, do their utmost to preserve and further the cause of world peace; therefore, be it resolved that we, the Catholic Women's League of Canada, in convention assembled, do hereby protest our abhorrence of wars, especially wars of aggression, and do most earnestly condemn the manufacture of armaments for private profit.

Also, there were adopted resolutions pledging continued campaign to eliminate objectionable features, such as sex and gangster films, in motion pictures; to further Christian education of Orientals in Vancouver, which, it was thought, should be made a national endeavor instead of being supported by Pacific Coast subdivisions; and endorsing Christian education of youth on lines laid down at the international congress of the Catholic Women's League in Rome last April. The press and hotel management were thanked for courtesies.

Tells of Toronto Meeting

MRS. W. G. WILSON

THERE was a large gathering at the United Presbyterial meeting yesterday afternoon, at the Metropolitan United Church, with the various women's auxiliaries of this city represented, to hear Mrs. W. G. Wilson give her report of the Dominion Board meeting, which she recently attended in Toronto. The ladies were welcomed by Mrs. W. L. Smith, Mrs. H. J. Armitage, Mrs. J. Scott and Mrs. Chisholm. Mrs. W. J. Graham presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Wilson told of the great value of supply work, very needy cases receiving help, then others benefited by the inspiration that was received from visiting missionaries and of the stories of their work. While there are always some discouraging points, there are many reasons for encouragement in the increasing number of members in the Young Women's Auxiliaries, and the larger number of baby bands. A wonderful forward step was the unification of mission boards in the foreign fields. Mrs. C. G. MacKenzie conducted a short devotional service.

Mrs. E. Parsons and Miss Dorothy Parsons delighted the audience by singing a duet, "The Wings of a Dove," by Michael Watson. They were accompanied by Mr. Jack Ringwood. Mrs. Armitage moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Wilson and all those assisting. Refreshments were served under the convenership of Mrs. A. H. McLoughlin, and a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Bowden, supply secretary, had a wonderful display of supply articles which had been sent in by the various auxiliaries of the Victoria Presbyterial.

The Towner Bay Country Club

The executive wish to correct an erroneous impression relative to the operations of the above club, which has been drawn to their attention.

This impression implies that the club is a profit-making institution, and that the enjoyment of membership, consequently, entails expenditures additional to the entrance fee and semi-annual subscription.

Such is not the case.

On the contrary, it is operated solely for the benefit of its members, and regulations are in force specially advantageous to those of moderate means.

Many Attend City Temple Garden Fete

The Women's Auxiliary to the City Temple held another successful affair, yesterday afternoon, when a garden party took place at the Menzies Nurses' Home, under the convenership of Miss A. Ordano. The affair, which was attended by a very large number of members and friends of the congregation, was opened by Captain Burgess J. Gadsden.

For his kind hospitality in allowing the Women's Auxiliary to use his beautiful grounds, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Dr. Espley, and also to the nurse, Miss Dann, who assisted so willingly.

There were attractive stalls of plain sewing, home cooking, candy, ice cream and flowers, besides other novel attractions, games and afternoon tea. Artists who helped with the entertainment were Mr. William Carter, who gave songs and violin selections, and Mrs. Evelyn Holt, who played the accordion. The pupils of Grace Attfield added to the enjoyment of the afternoon, when the following dances were given: Studio dance, Elsie Robertson, Lona-Marie Attfield, Lily and Dorothy Burrows and Laura Peaker; dolly dance, Muriel Marshall; clown dance, Lona-Marie Attfield; acrobatic dance, Laura Peaker; umbrella dance, Elsie Robertson, Laura Peaker and Lona-Marie Attfield.

The chairman was P. E. George, and the guest artist, John Pimm, violinist. Much pleasure was given by this promising young musician, who was accompanied at the piano by Robert Taylor.

The little piano class students were very interesting, and gave a duet, a trio, a solo, and a toy orchestral number. Those taking part were Christina Schmelz, Flora Campbell, Joan Lucas, Alice and Doris Bleethman, Thelma and Clifford Rolfe, Hilda Jacques, Margaret and Elsie and Warren George, Dorothy Peacock, Francis Doble, Phyllis Mills, George Geddie, Joyce Bayliss, Harold Temple, Doreen Parfitt and Victor Copp.

Save the Pieces

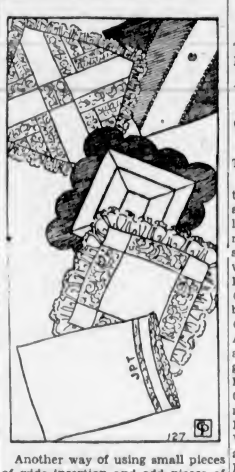

By HANNAH

A lady always has the right to fine linen and fine lace, and though the rest of the world may go very severe in black and chromium and monk-like interiors, there are still boudoirs which are boudoirs. For those and those alone are these dainty pillows designed. They have no place in any room but the most feminine of bedrooms.

They might all be made of the finest of white linen, lawn or batiste. If color is desired, however, some of them might be dainty pastel shades. At the top, left, is a cushion cover which may be made of small pieces of silk combined with small pieces of lace and insertion. All the joining is done by hand, and it is inexpensive if you have the material at hand, but an exquisite gift just the same.

Pieces of fine linen or batiste in white and colors make the cover at the top, right. The pieces are fagotted together by hand, and the colors may be pale shades of blue, rose, green or lavender, to suit the color scheme of the room or the negligee.

Small pieces of white are fagotted together to form the scalloped cover. The scalloped hem may be a color. It is a faced back hem.

Another way of using small pieces of wide insertion and odd pieces of white lawn is shown at the right. A ruffle of the lawn furnishes the cover, and it in turn is finished with a very narrow very fine lace.

The little baby's sleeping pillow, which most all of the great big girls we know use for their own old grey heads, is covered with a fine batiste slip in a plain tailored style. A tiny bit of lace and insertion and some hand-embroidered initials finish it in exquisite taste.

These are all covers for the fine sewer to make, and they will be most welcome as gifts at any season of the year. Everybody could use another pillow or two.

TORONTO, June 29 (CP).—McLean Building Reports, Limited, tonight estimated June contracts awarded in Canada for building and engineering work were worth $12,208,000, compared with $8,086,200 in June last year.

Bridal Veil Is Heirloom

The bridal veil which was worn by her mother and sister at their weddings, was used by Miss Charlotte Ross Gooderham, of Toronto, recently, when she became Mrs. William James Grant, in a lovely ceremony in St. Paul's Church, Toronto. The veil fell from a coronet of rose point lace and orange blossom buds. Her gown was heart-of-a-rose wedding satin cut on princess lines, with a long train and sleeves in directoire style, finished over the hands in rose point.

Piano Pupils Give Concert For Parents

Piano pupils of Beatrice Griffin, A.T.C.M., were heard in a recital programme at the New Thought Hall on Thursday evening. The programme in two parts, introduced some very promising talent, and in the wide variety of numbers presented were duets, trios and solos.

Those taking part were Frank Moore, Neil Swainson, John Swainson, Marjorie Olton, Orsa Douglas, Frances MacIvor, Marjorie McKay, Beatrice Murray, Leonard Johnson, Mora Gay, Harmon Crosby, Eileen Cross, Elsie Clarke, Iris Vallance, Gladys Rawlings, Peggy Stanley, Irene Olton, Dorothy Porter, Pearl McGary and Carlton Porter.

Very competent foundation work was shown in the playing of each student.

Hebden Gillespie, 1968 Fairfield Road, at 3 o'clock on Tuesday.

All those wishing to attend are requested to get in touch with Mr. J. Hooper, 410 Oswego Street, immediately.

Miss M. Holyoake presented a report on the tea held recently on board the Columbia Coast Mission Ship, which proved very successful. Misses I. Dallain, M. Holyoake, D. Young and S. Schofield were sincerely thanked in this connection.

Mr. Ernie Gray gave a splendid report on the annual picnic and sports day, thanking all those who contributed to its success. Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle, Messrs. S. C. Hawkins, J. Aylwin, D. What Today Means

"CANCER"

If June 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m., from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and from 10:30 until midnight.

It will be advisable if you have to go to the office on this June 30 to get there early, as the morning hours will be busy ones. You may receive a request for some information, which you will be inclined to delay in furnishing. This might prove an expensive delay, so it will not be wise to procrastinate. The morning will be inducive to a display of irritability, so be mentally alert and avoid indulging in it, as only harmful results will be gained by a display of it. You should have a great deal of pleasure during the afternoon. An atmosphere of good humor will prevail throughout the rest of the day, providing you make up your mind that you will not let trivial things rub you the wrong way. It is advisable to put yourself out to be nice to some elderly people you may meet. In a roundabout way, your efforts will bear good fruit.

The woman born on June 30, as a rule, needs to cultivate the habit of alertness, and to overcome the tendency of being slow in arriving at a decision. Both business and social life on this date requires one to be "snappy." The easy, slow-going individual, like the dodo bird, is an extinct specie, and does not belong to this time or generation. You possess an unusual capacity for work, and will succeed best in such lines that require steady application, such as office detail, retail selling of women's and children's accessories, and similar merchandising. If you enter into matrimony, your happiness will depend upon your willingness to adjust yourself to your husband's ideas regarding little things.

The child born on June 30, as it grows up, may display a tendency to be decidedly stubborn. This characteristic can be gradually overcome by making it realize the necessity of weighing other people's opinions, and making it appreciate that many times they are the proper ones, and should be accepted. In other words, teach it to use its reasoning powers.

The man born on June 30, as a general rule, resents being told what he must or must not do. He is a hard worker, has strong personal convictions, and cannot be readily swayed by the opinions of others. If born on this date, you have qualifications that assure a successful career in any line of endeavor you undertake, providing you do not completely ignore the advice offered by men, in the same line, who are qualified to offer constructive suggestions. If you marry, you should have an ideal homelife.

JAPAN SAILING FOR ORIENT

Liner Taking Large Passenger List—Damsterdyk Docked From Europe

Due alongside Rithet Piers at 4 o'clock this afternoon, the Canadian Pacific Ss. Empress of Japan will embark travelers, and take on mails and cargo before proceeding towards Honolulu, her first port of call, at 5:30 o'clock. The Japan will have over 600 passengers in all classes aboard when she leaves Victoria for the Philippine Islands via Hawaii, Japan and China ports. Captain A. V. R. Lovegrove will be in command of the big liner this voyage, her regular skipper, Captain L. D. Douglas, taking a shore-side holiday.

From Rotterdam and London, the Holland-Amerika combined freight and passenger motorship Damsterdyk, Captain Ellis, tied up at Ogden Point Piers at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and sailed again for Mainland ports shortly after noon. The Damsterdyk had twenty travelers aboard, five of whom left the ship here. They were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McKenzie, the Misses Margaret and Betty McKenzie, and Miss Dorothy Jamieson.

Frank S. Elliott, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Union Pacific, with headquarters in Seattle, was a visitor here, yesterday. Mr. Elliott spoke optimistically of the transportation situation in the United States, and told of the additional streamlined trains the company would have in service before the end of Summer.

Bound for Japan, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha motorship Hiye Maru will pass out to sea this afternoon. The Hiye Maru is full up with both passengers and cargo.

Auction of Emma K. Is Postponed Until Next Week

VANCOUVER, June 29 (CP). — Sale by auction of the Ms. Emma K., fixed for noon today, was adjourned until the same hour next Tuesday, by Sheriff W. M. Cochrane, when bidders gathered on the Courthouse steps.

The Emma K., fifty-four-foot alleged rum-runner, was seized in April by customs officials on a charge of false registration, and shortly afterwards was arrested on a warrant issued on the complaint of Angel Mingo, master, and William S. Purdy, engineer. They claim $1,806 and $350, respectively, for wages and disbursements, and the ship has been ordered sold to satisfy these and other claims.

BOEING PLANES FOR NEW ROUTE

United Air Lines Co. Giving Vancouver Fast Service With Coast Cities

SEATTLE, June 29 (AP).—Direct air passenger express service between Seattle and British Columbia will become effective July 1, when United Air Lines opens operation into Vancouver, it was announced in a telegram received by R. C. F. Ahrens, district traffic manager, from W. A. Petterson, president. Extension of the Pacific Coast airway will place the Canadian and Mexican borders only twelve and a half hours apart.

Three mile-a-minute Boeing transport planes, of the kind used on all other United routes, will be operated on the Seattle-Vancouver run. Travel time from Seattle to Vancouver will be just fifty-five minutes.

Under the schedules provided, Seattleites will be able to leave here after breakfast, spend the major part of a business day in Vancouver, and be back home before dinner. Planes will leave here at 10 o'clock in the morning, arriving in Vancouver at 10:55, leaving there at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon, and arriving back here at 5:40.

United's entry into Vancouver provides that city with air transport connections to Seattle and all other Pacific Coast cities of 100,000 or more population, as well as with a total of approximately 200 cities reached by the country's entire airway network.

Young Victoria Pilot in Charge of R.C.A.F. Machine on Flight to Northern Ontario

Sergeant R. I. Thomas, twenty-seven-year-old Royal Canadian Air Force pilot, son of Mrs. M. E. Thomas, 1719 Stanley Avenue, left on June 13 with H. N. Awrey, Department of Indian Affairs official, and other R.C.A.F. men on a 5,000-mile air jaunt through the hinterland of Northern Ontario.

The flight is being made in two Fairchild "71" planes, and is for the purpose of distributing $20,000 to 5,000 Indians in Ontario. The trip is an annual affair.

The Indians will receive about $4 each as the result of Treaty 9, which became effective in Northern Ontario in June, 1929.

WELL KNOWN HERE

Sergeant Thomas made the flight last year. He is well known in Victoria, having received his early education at Boys' Central School and Victoria High School. In 1928 he left Victoria and entered the Jericho Beach air station to train for his pilot's certificate.

After securing this in 1930, Sergeant Thomas was transferred to the East, and has been there since.

Besides his mother, Sergeant Thomas has a sister, Helen, and two brothers, Clifford and Victor, in Victoria.

Churches and Their World-Wide Work

TO BEGIN NEW SERIES SUNDAY

Dean Quainton Will Preach on "Where Can I Begin in Religion?"

It has been the custom of Dean Quainton for some years to preach a special course of Summer sermons in Christ Church Cathedral on the Sunday evenings of July and August. This year the general title of the course will be "Personal Christianity," and the subject of the first sermon of the course, to be delivered on Sunday evening, will be "Where Can I Begin in Religion?"

The preacher will deal with such vital questions as "Does Real Religion Begin With God or Man?" "Is It a Discovery or a Revelation?" "Where and How Can a Man Make a Start With It?"

A gathering will be held on Sunday at 3 o'clock at the open-air pulpit on the south side of the Cathedral. This is under the auspices of the Oxford Group Movement and will be addressed by the Dean and others. Visitors to the city are specially invited.

Holy Communion will be administered on Sunday at 8 and 11 o'clock. At the earlier of these two celebrations, those who wish to receive Communion by intinction are asked to go to the side-altar.

WILL MEMORIALIZE CARTIER'S COMING

Fairfield to Follow Church Programme—Evening, Dr. Henry on "Canada's Birthday"

The services at Fairfield Church on Sunday will centre about the theme, "Canada." The Sunday school in all its departments will meet for roll call at 10:30 o'clock, afterwards joining with the congregation in a patriotic service at 11.

The "Patriotic Day Programme," prepared by the United Church, to celebrate the 400th anniversary of Cartier's discovery of Canada, will be used, and Dr. Henry will give an address on "Dominion Day Thoughts." A. Jackman will sing "Land of Hope and Glory" (Elgar), and the choir will render the anthem, "Harken Unto Me My People" (Sullivan).

At 7:30 o'clock, Dr. Henry will speak on "Canada's Birthday," emphasizing her encouragements, her dangers and her needs. L. Abbott will be the evening soloist and the choir will sing the anthem, "The Lord Is Loving Unto Every Man" (Garrett).

Dr. Charles L. Thornton, who has just concluded a six weeks' campaign in The Tabernacle at Wichita, Kansas, is due to commence a fifteen days' prophetic conference here in Victoria, beginning tomorrow and continuing to Sunday, July 15.

This conference, which is to be held in the Central Baptist Church, Pandora Avenue, will open with three meetings on Sunday: Morning worship, at 11 o'clock; a grand prophetic rally, in the afternoon at 3, and the evening Gospel service, at 7:30. The special subject for the afternoon rally will be "The Coming of Elijah and the 144,000." Many claims have been made in connection with the "144,000 of the revelation," and many questions have been asked. This will be an opportunity to have difficulties cleared up.

Religion as an internationalising factor was made evident in a joint communion service held recently by the American mission church in Beirut, Syria, when a congregation of 600 received the communion in the Armenian, English, French, German and Turkish languages, from the ministers of as many Protestant churches. A similar service was held in Antoura, Syria, more than 100 years ago.

There are some 1,047 pastors in French Protestantism, not counting evangelists, and including four women. The Protestant Annual enumerates 400 Protestant or ecumenical periodicals published in France.

A musical programme to promote good will between Protestants, Catholics and Jews is broadcast every morning except Sunday from a Cincinnati radio station. It consists of well-known hymns of each of these faiths.

Church Camps to Attract Many Youths During Summer Months

THE lure of the open, with its charm, sunset and camp fire, the opportunity of closer fellowship in the informality of camp life have been capitalized now for a number of years by the churches, in order to promote character building among their young people. It has been found that play and study, recreation and worship can be combined, while the camaraderie developed between youth and adult is most beneficial to both. The interest in the various camps increases.

The local Y.M.C.A. camp will be held at Maple Lawn, Sooke, from July 23 to August 6, for boys between twelve and seventeen years.

The Canadian Girls in Training will hold two camps, one for intermediates, July 4-12, and for seniors, July 12-21, both of them at Maple Lawn.

The Anglican Church Girls' Camp, which was held last year at Garth Home, Burnside Road, will assemble this year at Sooke from July 26 to August 6, on the site of the Bible Students' old camp.

The Senior Provincial Girls' Camp is slated for Ocean Park, July 11-21, the Young People's and Leaders' Training Camp, July 21-31. Both of these are under the auspices of the Provincial Religious Education Council.

Camp Artaban, the Anglican resort at Gambier Island, opens its eleventh session on July 2, continuing with various groups until September 3.

The Baptist churches hold a series of gatherings at Keats Island, beginning July 4. The Presbyterian Young People's Association of British Columbia will go under canvas, also at Keats Island, for its ninth year, beginning July 3 and ending August 15.

FORMER NANAIMO MINISTER COMING

Rev. F. W. Anderson Will Take Oak Bay United Services During Month of July

REV. F. W. ANDERSON, M.A.

Rev. F. W. Anderson, M.A., pastor of the United Church, Mission City, will be the preacher during July at Oak Bay United Church, beginning tomorrow morning. The evening services will be discontinued until the return of the pastor, Dr. Gerald Breen Switzer, on August 5.

The supply preacher for the coming month is well known on Vancouver Island, having been minister of St. Andrew's Church, Nanaimo, for several years, where he succeeded the late Rev. Hugh Nixon. On account of impaired health, Mr. Anderson recently resigned his pastorate at Mission City and was put on the superannuation list for one year. Along with Mrs. Anderson he intends to take up his residence for a year in this city.

TO HOLD MEETINGS AT CADBORO BAY

Meetings sponsored by the Shantymen's Christian Association will be held at Cadboro Bay again this Summer in McMorran's Pavilion. There will be beach meetings every day and on Sunday evenings a picture service at 7:30 o'clock, with songs and addresses.

During the recent session of the Bay of Quinte conference of the United Church, at the hour when the late Dr. Neil MacNeill, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Toronto, was being borne to his last resting place, its members stood for a moment of silent devotion. Four leaders of the United Church were present at the requiem mass in Toronto, intimation having been received that seats had been reserved for them.

The Young Women's Christian Association of the United States has adopted a new declaration of purpose, as follows: "To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realising in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share his love for all people, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

HAS CHARGE OF LONDON CAUSE

Rev. A. G. Munson, Formerly Here, Enters on New District

REV. A. G. E. MUNSON

The rapid expansion of London and the need for Christian service in the new districts has constituted a call to Rev. A. G. E. Munson, for five years priest-in-charge of St. Matthias' Church, in this city, who closed his ministry there and in connection with Christ Church Cathedral last October.

The remarkable growth of the Empire's metropolis is shown in the fact that the Diocese of Middlesex has increased its population in the ten years from 1921 to 1931 by 350,000—a city as large as Vancouver. Writing on the need created by this transfer of people from the more densely settled areas, the Bishop of Willesden said that "we swallow a city the size of Gloucester yearly."

Under the "forty-five churches" scheme, promoted by the Bishop of London, the district of Colindale has been set apart as a missionary district with Mr. Munson in charge. This church project has been made possible by the generosity of the rector and congregation of Christ Church, Lancaster Gate, W., a church noted for its missionary spirit.

The corner-stone of a church hall on Rushgrove Avenue was laid on May 25, by Lady Graham-Campbell, as representing the Lancaster Gate congregation, of which her husband, Sir Rollo Graham-Campbell, chief magistrate of London for twenty-one years, is a churchwarden. The Bishop of Willesden presided over the ceremony.

Mr. Munson speaks of his new work as "quite an adventure," as being a start on virgin soil. His faithful work in this city will be recalled by his many friends, as also his missionary service on the West Coast for two years.

Thanks to the liberty of conscience, now prevailing in Spain, the Protestants of that country are able to draw together in a living organism, states The Scots Observer. At a recent Spanish international committee, representatives were present from Anglican, Scottish and Irish Presbyterian, Dutch, Swiss and German churches and societies.

Garden City

A large gathering of members of Garden City United Church was held in the church on Tuesday evening for the purpose of bidding Mr. H. James God-speed on the occasion of his visit to Wales. Mr. James is superintendent of the Sunday school and a member of the church session. A programme of music and community singing was heartily enjoyed, the following members of the church choir taking part: Mrs. J. Hobden, Mrs. Pebernat, Mrs. Allan, and Messrs. Fryatt, Woods and Allan. Mr. D. Sims gave a reading and Mrs. Fryatt led in community singing. Mr. James was presented with a shaving set. Refreshments were served by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary under the convenership of Mrs. Raynor. The happy function was brought to a conclusion by the singing of "Will Ye No' Come Back Again?" and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Rev. W. P. McHaffie pronounced the benediction.

Church to Study Name Tomorrow

"Christian Science" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 1. The golden text is: "Laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as new-born babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby" (Peter ii, 1, 2).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Neither shall they say, Lo here! or lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you" (Luke xvii, 21).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. "This kingdom of God 'is within you'—is within reach of man's consciousness here, and the spiritual idea reveals it. In divine Science, man possesses this recognition of harmony consciously in proportion to his understanding of God" (p. 576).

Brings Title Back Home

HENRY COTTON

English professional, who brought the British Open golf championship back home yesterday, when he headed an international field by five strokes. Cotton's score was 283, which equaled the previous record set by Gene Sarazen in 1932. Cotton's victory was the first scored by a Britisher since 1923, when Arthur Havers nosed out Walter Hagen. Cotton had a glorious chance to shatter the all-time record for the competition, when he shattered all previous marks in the first two rounds; but he required a 72 in the third round, and then shot a faulty 79 in the last eighteen.

Indians to Compete In Canoe Marathon Wednesday Morning

Pair From American City Entered in Victoria-Port Angeles Marathon July 4—More Expected —Perpetual Trophy Put Up

Judging from the interest displayed by the business men and athletes of Port Angeles and Victoria, the canoe marathon from Victoria to Port Angeles, scheduled for next Wednesday morning, starting at 10 o'clock, from the Causeway, is destined to develop into one of the most outstanding sporting attractions in the Pacific Northwest.

H. B. Molchier, secretary of the Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce, wired over to the local committee yesterday inquiring whether entries would be received from two Port Angeles Indian teams, who figure they can show the way to the Canadian white skinned athletes. As the Indians wish to use Indian dugout canoes in the race, it was necessary to interview the local contestants as to whether they would consent to same. All of the local entries that the committee could contact expressed themselves as being particularly anxious for the Indians to enter, and a wire has been forwarded to Port Angeles to that effect. It was also decided that in the event of any Island Indians wishing to enter the race and use Indian dugouts not less than sixteen feet in length, their entry will be accepted, providing it is filed with W. H. Davies, at Empire Realty Co., 1008 Broad Street, not later than 10 a.m., Tuesday, July 3.

PERPETUAL TROPHY

Due to the co-operation of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce which has agreed to act as co-sponsor of the race with the Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce, it has been possible to secure a splendid perpetual trophy which will be competed for yearly. The next race in 1935 will be from Port Angeles to Victoria. Boris Peetz, local silversmith, has been instructed to make up a shield suitable as a trophy for the event.

The officials who will have charge of the race follow:

Starter—Hon. T. D. Pattullo.

Judges en route—George I. Warren, secretary Victoria Chamber of Commerce; F. H. Partridge, president, Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Alderman J. D. Hunter.

Finish judges — Robert Bundy, president; Harry Beetle, vice-president, and H. B. Molchier, secretary, Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Timekeeper—Hon. John Hart.

Announcer — William Findlay, secretary, Junior Chamber of Commerce.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Calendar Castle—Augustusburg Castle, built between 1568 and 1572, is situated about five miles from Chemnitz, Saxony. It was erected at the order of Elector August I, who entrusted the job to a non-professional, Jerome Lotter, the Mayor of Leipzig. In the sixteenth century, every Saxon city executive was entitled to the honorary appellation of "architect," and that is the reason why the Mayor undertook the work.

Somerville Is Beaten by U.S. Golf Aspirant

WINDSOR, June 29 (CP).—Ollie Galen, twenty-one-year-old Toledo, Ohio, youngster, supplied the big upset in the second round of the Ontario Amateur golf championship over the Essex County Golf and Country Club today when he eliminated C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, former Canadian and United States amateur titleholder, 4 and 2. Galen became the lone American for the semi-final round tomorrow, with three Canadians still in the chase for the crown won last year by Don Carrick, of Toronto. Carrick passed from the picture today at the hands of Howard Maguire, of Detroit, in the first round.

English Pro Faulters On Last Eighteen, But Equals Low-Score Mark

Triumph of Cotton Ends the Ten-Year American Stranglehold on Crown—Turns In Score of 283 After Finishing Last Eighteen in Faulty 79—South African Second and Padgham Third

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer.

SANDWICH, Eng., June 29 (AP). —Although he faltered badly down the home stretch and failed to shatter the tournament scoring record, which had appeared within his grasp, Henry Cotton coasted through to an easy victory today in the British Open golf championship, triumphing with a 72-hole total of 283 and breaking a ten-year American stranglehold on the title.

Battered by a biting wind and buffeted by a boisterous crowd of 5,000 stampeding fans in the final round, the twenty-seven-year-old English professional went to pieces for a stretch of twelve holes, threatening to blow a ten-shot lead he had amassed from previous great rounds of 67, 65, 72 over the Royal St. George's par-72 course.

FIVE-STROKE EDGE

Standing on the fourteenth tee, with disaster staring him in the face, Cotton took a new grip on himself and finished the remaining five holes in par for a fourth-round 79, enabling him to breeze in with five strokes to spare over Sid Brews, a dark-horse South African professional, who put together rounds of 76, 71, 70, 71, for 288 and runner-up honors.

Third place went to Alf Padgham, 1933 British Ryder Cup team player, who had rounds of 75 and 74 today for a total of 290.

Macdonald Smith and Joe Kirkwood, two of the four pro invaders from the United States, and the latter Canadian Open champion, finished in a tie with Marcel Dallemange, French pro, for fourth place with aggregates of 292 each. The veteran Smith shot a pair of 72's to bring him up from far back in the pack, while Kirkwood, the trick-shot Australian, had rounds of 71 and 78. Dallemange carded a 71 this morning and was going along smoothly on his last round until he struck the back nine and drew a big 40, finishing with a 79.

The other two entries from the United States, Denny Shute, of Philadelphia, and Gene Sarazen, of New York, finished in that order, 18 and 19 shots respectively behind Cotton.

LOSE PUTTING TOUCH

Cotton's trouble on the first twelve holes of the last round was pretty general in its nature. He suddenly lost his deft approaching touch. At the sixth hole he turned to the rioting spectators and pleaded with them to "Let me alone." As he was about to make a shot they had shouted a warning that he was playing the wrong ball.

He continued to play fitfully through the twelfth hole, losing seven strokes to par, taking a succession of 5's on the first three inward holes, and then he swung into his regular stride and finished out the round in regulation figures.

Brews, who shot brilliant rounds of 70 and 71 in a screeching gale to climb into second place, was enabled to complete in the championship through a public subscription raised by South African golf clubs. He intends to visit North America later in the year.

Tug Loaned to Escort Teams In Canoe Race

HAROLD Elworthy, popular manager of the Island Tug & Barge Company, has placed a tug at the disposal of the committee in charge of the first annual Victoria to Port Angeles canoe marathon, to start from Victoria Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The tug will act as escort to the teams and a doctor will be on board to render first aid if necessary. It is the second time recently that Mr. Elworthy has placed a tug at the disposal of sport promoters, the Burrard Chief acting as convoy ship and escort in last Fall's attempted Victoria-to-Port Angeles swim.

CLUBMEN IN SECOND WIN OF SCHEDULE

TAKING advantage of six miscues, Wilf Shouldice's inability to find the plate, and all-round indifferent playing on the part of their opponents, Tillicums came back to life last evening in the Victoria Amateur Baseball League and banged out a 9-4 victory over Poodle Dog Cafe at the Royal Athletic Park before a handful of the faithful. It was the second win of the season for the clubmen and their first for a long time.

Patching their infield with a flock of young material from the Twilight League, the Tillicums, under their new manager, Joe Casey, played comparatively smart ball, but there's still room for improvement and more life in the club. As far as the cafemen were concerned they were sadly off color. Not once during the game did they look like a winning team, and all evening the umpire was urging them to take their positions at a fast gait, but they paid little attention, moving back and forth like a funeral cortege.

JONES IN FORM

Lloyd Jones pitched a good game for the Tillicums and very seldom ran into any trouble worth talking about. He fanned eight and gave three walks, and figured in the only double killing of the game. Shouldice, on the other hand, was wild, striking out seven and giving ten free tickets to first. It was his first appearance on the local mound for several weeks. Fred McGinnis caught a great game for the winners and was in the ball game from start to finish. He is rapidly hitting his old stride and is a great help to a pitcher.

GOLF FACTS

NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX MORRISON

I like to study people, particularly when they're on the golf course.

The thoughtlessness shown around the course by a person who is most particular about everything outside of golf is amazing.

Saturdays and Sundays generally find most courses crowded to capacity. The usual congestion at the first tee finds many players anxious to get started.

Their nervous condition prompts them to swish clubs back and forth with little or no regard for those around them.

If you must swing a club get away from everybody and don't ever swing toward anyone.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

North Ward junior lacrosse twelve left last evening for Vancouver, where they play the preliminary to the big New Westminster vs. Vancouver game, this afternoon. The Wards will meet Vancouver Athletic Club twelve, and are confident of defeating the Mainlanders, even on their home grounds. The Wards won from Vancouver, May 24, and will endeavor to duplicate their victory. Captain Dakers' team have yet to suffer defeat this season, as they have been putting up a good brand of lacrosse. They will do all in their power to keep up the winning streak. The complete line-up will be as follows: Humber, goal; Sweeney, point; Dakers, cover; Noel, first defence; Kelly, second defence; Brynjolfson, third defence; Hodgson, centre; Menzies, third home; McCarter, second home; McDonald, first home; Johnson, outside. The team will be accompanied by Manager Russ Humber, Vice-President Clare McConnell and Secretary Cooker. Mould and Sylvester will go along as reserves.

Beacon Hill baseball nine left on the Charmer, last night, for Vancouver, where they have an engagement with the Cloverdales of that city. They will play on the Cambie Street grounds, this afternoon, and those who will make the trip follow: Scott, Townsley, Gravlin, P. O'Rourke, Meldram, T. O'Rourke, Jenkins, Long, Clarke and Shanks.

The J.B.A.A. crews are working into splendid shape for the big N.P.A.A.O. regatta, at Seattle, on July 11 and 12. Coach Dan O'Sullivan has been putting the oarsmen through the paces for some time, and will keep them at it until a few days before the big event.

Kinsman, the kid goalkeeper of the fast Toronto Tecumsehs, who recently lost to New Westminster in the Minto Cup lacrosse game, is rated as the best goal custodian that has ever been seen in action on the Coast. Jack Sweeney, who covered the final game of the series for The Colonist, gives out this statement, and Jack knows his lacrosse from every angle. Kinsman is only eighteen years of age and is a real wonder.

Ribbons Defeat Beavers Squad

Taking the field with but eight players and playing brilliant ball behind the twirling of Chuck Turner, Blue Ribbons sprang a surprise in the "A" section of the Lower Island Softball Association, last evening, at Bullen's Park, by trimming the league-leading Beavers, 11-3. The hitting of Noel Morgan featured the Ribbons' triumph, which was a replay of the ten-inning 1-1 tie played a month ago.

FOUR REACH QUARTER-FINALS AT WIMBLEDON

Crawford Puts Out Young Japanese to Reach Last Eight

Defending Champion Defeats Jiro Yamagishi After Dropping First Set—Austin, Stoefen and Wood Advance—Helen Jacobs and Peggy Scriven Win in Singles

WIMBLEDON, England, June 29 (CP-AP).—Four of the world's top-ranking singles players — Jack Crawford, of Australia; "Bunny" Austin, of England; Lester Stoefen and Sidney Wood, of the United States—reached the quarter-finals of the all-England tennis championships, today.

Four more will join them tomorrow as the first week of play in the historic tourney draws to a close. Fred Perry, the English ace, did not have a single engagement today.

Crawford, defending the title, charged through the defences of the young Japanese Davis Cup man, Jiro Yamagishi, to win today's engagement by 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Austin, a cornerstone in Britain's cup team, breezed into the round of eight, with a 6-3, 6-1, 6-2 win over Theodore L. Hecht, of Czechoslovakia.

WOOD IN FORM

The slender Wood was in splendid form as he eliminated the former Columbia University tennis and basketball star, Dave Jones, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Stoefen, tall, powerful Californian, was equally impressive in belting over H. G. N. Lee, veteran Englishman, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Tomorrow, Frank Shields, lanky New Yorker, and left-handed Christian Boussus, of France, will get together. George Lott, third surviving American, faces Harry Hopman, of Australia. Fred Perry, England, and Adrian Quist, of Australia, and Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, of Germany, and Vernon G. Kirby, of South Africa, also meet tomorrow.

PEGGY SCRIVEN WINS

In the women's division, Helen Jacobs, of the United States, defeated Joan Ingram, unseeded English player, today, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1. Margaret (Peggy) Scriven, her top-ranked British rival, kept pace in the third round by defeating Mrs. E. S. Law, of England, 6-3, 6-2.

Little Sarah Palfrey, of Boston, continued her advance to the round of sixteen, with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfree, of England, Wimbledon champion in 1924 and 1926.

Cili Aussem, of Germany, and Mme. Rene Mathieu, of France, scored easy victories over Freda James, of England, and Fraulein M. Horn, of Germany, respectively, to enter the quarter-finals. Fraulein Aussem won 6-2, 6-1 and the French woman, 7-5, 6-2.

Lawn Bowling

If the male members of the lawn bowling fraternity were complacently looking upon their superiority over the "weaker" section of the species homo at their favorite game, they were given a rude awakening, yesterday, when four of the "stalwarts" of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club undertook to demonstrate their prowess: because four of the women members of the club took them in hand and administered a defeat that should conclusively convince the men that their fancies of superiority were, indeed, only fancies.

And it must be said that the men resorted to every device which might aid them in stemming the tide which was running strongly against them, but to no avail. It is said they even went so far as to "doll up" their skip in female raiment to a certain extent, but the captain balked at donning "shorts," no doubt because of the fact that he had seen in the comic strip of "Polly and Her Pals," the spectacle presented by Pa Perkins, and how his nether limbs struck such a marked contrast to what the average man prides himself upon possessing.

The scribe who was present saw the finish of sixteen ends, when the score was 20 to 10 in favor of the women, and he left thoroughly convinced that whatever "superiority" the sterner sex may possess did not include dexterity at lawn bowling, as the following score will testify:

Mrs. Wright	M. Haywood
Mrs. Huxtable	J. A. Stewart
Mrs. Simmons	Dave Dewar
Mrs. McKeachie, skip 20	M. Phillips, skip 10

Whether the vanquished will acquire sufficient temerity to issue a challenge for a return match is not stated, but, in view of the disastrous result attending their initial efforts, it is not at all likely.

Three Matches Carded Today

Three matches will be played in Hillcrest Tennis Club championships this afternoon, on the Esquimalt courts. Eastern Ace Finishes Four Strokes Ahead of Quartette in Ontario

WINDSOR, Ont., June 29 (CP).—Sandy Somerville changed his mind at the last minute about the Ontario amateur golf championship and hurried down here from London to start his qualifying round in mid-afternoon. Today, the tall, unsmiling ace of Canadian golfers was headed towards his fourth provincial title.

Shooting over the Essex Golf and Country Club course, where the temperature was 104, Somerville shot a superlative 69, three under par. He was four strokes ahead of a quartette tied for second place.

The veteran, Fred Hoblitzel, of Toronto, Joe Bialkowski, of Windsor, Harvey Olsen, of Detroit, and Ollie Galen, of Toledo, O., made up the group with young Phil Farley, of Toronto, 1931 champion, another stroke back.

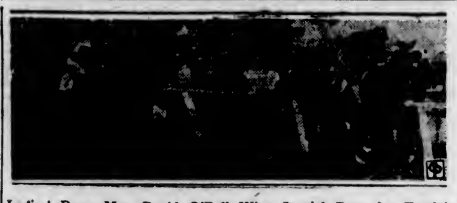

It required an eighteen-hole score of 77 or better to qualify and several outstanding Canadian players were outside this limit, making way for seven Americans.

Whaley Downs Moe To Reach Final in P.N.W. Tournament

Seattleite Springs Surprise by Beating Portlander at Spokane, 3 and 1—Storey Noses Out White, 1 up—Women's Final Is Reached

By FRANK G. GORRIE
Associated Press Sports Writer.

SPOKANE COUNTRY CLUB, SPOKANE, Wash., June 29 (AP).—The only way to explain it is, big Ralph Whaley "smoked" Don Moe out of the tournament, today, and earned the right to meet Kenney Gerald Storey, pee-wee Spokane ace, for the amateur golf title of the Pacific Northwest, tomorrow.

Strutting around the course with a big black pipe in his face and lighting it before nearly every shot, the huge Seattle shotmaker sent the big gallery into a dizzy whirl as he smashed Moe's best-looking hopes of winning the crown in his fourth tournament.

Finishing with three successive birdies, the last one being conceded, Whaley conquered the former Western amateur champion, American Walker Cup ace and the heavy favorite, 3 and 1.

Storey, with a burst of speed on the last nine, nosed out Bob White, his home town competitor, 1 up, to give the two finalists their first chance at a major title.

RALLIES TO WIN

Storey gained a one-hale edge in the morning, fell two behind at the thirtieth, and then came back to win three of the last five with two pars and a birdie. White nearly squared the match with a long putt at the thirty-sixth, but his ball stopped an inch short.

In the flights, Bruce Evans, Victoria, B.C., entered the second flight finals, defeating Dr. M. Rosenblatt, Portland, 1 up. G. K. Thompson, Victoria, became a finalist in the fourth flight, eliminating Jack Houston, Spokane, 5 and 4, while E. L. Mann, Wenatchee, was losing to Jack Henry, Spokane, at the nineteenth, and Mel Vorheis, Tacoma, gained a chance to win the fifth flight, defeating T. R. Wilson, Spokane, 1 up.

WOMEN'S FINAL

SPOKANE COUNTRY CLUB, SPOKANE, Wash., June 29 (AP).—Coming to the Pacific Northwest golf tournament "just for experience," Mrs. Don Scott, pretty young Bremerton shotmaker, today, suddenly found herself in the championship finals with Miss Marian McDougall, Portland's qualifying medalist and strong title contender.

Playing in her first major meet with the idea of becoming oriented for a try at the State crown in Seattle, later this Summer, Mrs. Scott breezed through her opponents in sensational style and climaxed her brilliant performance with a 9 and 6 victory over Mrs. F. B. Ross, Kallspell, Ont., in the eighteen-hole semi-finals match, today.

After a slow start Miss McDougall made quick work of Mrs. G. R. Johnson, Seattle, on the homeward nine, winning 5 and 3.

Students Start Annual Holiday; Results Issued

Eight Thousand Pupils Leave Books for Two Months' Recreation—Promotions in Nearly All City Schools Released by Principals—Some Await Examination Verdict

IT was a day of great rejoicing yesterday for approximately 8,000 school students, when they threw dull care aside, and figuratively turned a couple of cartwheels, in joyous glee, that studies were over for at least two months. In other words, the annual Summer vacation started yesterday, spelling the end of worry for many who were doubtful as to whether they would pass or not.

The children will not return to school again until the Fall term, which begins on September 4, the day following Labor Day.

Only those who sat for their matriculation examinations and entrance students have to await the verdict on their years' work. Their results will be announced later by the Provincial Department of Education.

CLOSING EXERCISES

Many closing exercises were held in the various elementary schools, during the past few days, while high school students started their holidays a week ago, when examinations came to an end.

Thanks to the co-operation of the many principals and teachers of city schools, The Colonist is able to publish an almost complete list of the results in the elementary grades, and also the Victoria High School. Following are the results:

Security Prices Drift Lower at New York Mart

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP).—The stock market drifted downward today through the last full session of trading before Federal rule of speculation becomes effective.

President Roosevelt's address to the nation, last night, proved to stir dormant speculative impulses into action. Transfers totalled 437,340 shares. The average for ninety stocks dropped 1.4 points to 77.9.

American Telephone, Armour of Illinois preferred, Santa Fe, American Smelting, U.S. Smelting, Chrysler, Auburn Auto, Wilson Packing "A" and Pullman, all declined about a point or two.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and other steel shares dipped 1 to 2 points.

Wall Street hailed as the best news of the moment announcement of the offering of $50,000,000 in bonds by the Pennsylvania Railroad. High-grade rails eased off on the news, but the general bond list held steady.

Sustained strength in silver in the face of the treasury announcement of an embargo on silver exports overshadowed commodity markets. Gains of silver futures ranged as high as two-thirds of a cent an ounce.

The bond market was generally dull and prices moved within a narrow range, today.

Government loans firmed about 1-8 up and rails 1 1-2.

Transfers totalled $9,643,000, par value.

French Government 7's gained nearly a point, Germany 5 1-2's declined a small fraction and Polish 6's gained 2 points.

Futures Unable to Hold Early Gains When Chicago Turns Weaker

WINNIPEG, June 29 (CP). — Keeping in step with Chicago trends, wheat futures prices turned lower on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, today, ending a dull session 1-2c to 3-4c off, July option at 76 3-8, October 78 1-2 and December 79 3-4c.

Values reacted from fractional opening gains and eased throughout the session.

Bulk of the small trade was of a local character. Chicago interests sold moderately near the close. Export demand was again restricted.

WHAT'S DOING ON THE LOCAL RETAIL PRODUCE MARKET

First preserving apricots will arrive from the Okanagan on Tuesday. Three cargoes in all are expected during the week. The season will be only two weeks in length and the first crop of apricots are reported to be the best. Although the price was not revealed, local wholesalers state the fruit will retail at the lowest price in history.

The local retail butter market is steady, but a one-cent advance in grade "A"-large, medium and pullet eggs was recorded yesterday.

First local Transparent and Duchess apples will go on the Victoria market on Tuesday.

There is a large supply of district-grown Bing cherries for sale today.

Prices on all produce will be at its lowest today, although a slight drop in the cost of new potatoes is expected at the first of next week.

Cantaloupes from California are cheaper. Raspberries are not so plentiful for the week-end. The slight rain flurry yesterday will help the loganberry growers, but strawberries are finished for the year.

A great deal of noise arose in the nursery one morning, and since it gave no promise of subsiding, Mrs. Odell hurried in that direction. She found the baby howling with might and main, and the new nursemaid sitting calmly by.

"Well, Delia, this is a terrible noise!" cried Mrs. Odell, angrily. "What is the matter? Can't you keep the baby quiet?"

"Shure, mum," replied the girl, "but I can't keep him quiet unless I let him make a noise, mum."

Virginia Vane Says:

TAKE WISE ADVICE OF ELDERLY ADMIRER WHO WILL NOT MARRY—HURT PRIDE CANNOT BE CURED OVERNIGHT

Dear Virginia Vane: I am in love with a man about twenty-eight years older than myself. He loves me, too, in a way, but because he is so much older than I, he refuses to marry me. He has been married before, has traveled a great deal, and is quite a man of the world. I have tried my best to forget him, but cannot.—A.D.

The man you love is showing a very fine spirit in refusing to let you consider marriage seriously. He is showing good judgment, too, since it would be practically impossible for you to remain happy with a man so much older than yourself.

You have naturally been fascinated by all the qualities in him which make him worldly and experienced. You imagine him as your husband, charming, cultured, sophisticated. You haven't looked far enough into the future to imagine what your husband will mean to you when you are forty and he is an old man. You haven't stopped to figure out that no amount of love and respect could cover up that vast difference in age.

Because you respect the man you love, you must try to take his opinion as final. You must understand that he is thinking of your happiness—more than he is of his own. Don't you see that his experience has taught him to mistrust the sort of marriage you want? He is telling you the truth and giving you good advice when he urges you to put aside wedding plans and to make the most of his friendship.

Try to see as much of young people as possible. Don't pass them by because you're so seriously attracted to an older man. Give youth a chance to attract you. You have been too wrapped up in your elderly love to notice that there are people your own age about you who might interest and amuse you.

Don't try to forget your hero all at once. Make friendships which will gradually wean you away from the love which can not bring you nor the man you love real happiness.

LONG-SUFFERING BOY FRIEND HAS RIGHT TO GRIEVANCE

Dear Miss Vane: My boy friend doesn't like to dance, but has always been perfectly willing to escort me to dances and remain there till the end. The other night I went to a dance with him and spent the evening without seeing him. I assumed that he was having his usual good time watching. He was angry when I finally found him, and though he made a date, failed to appear at my home on the evening of the date. I have phoned him and written him without result. Can you help me?—M.D.

It's a long-suffering boy friend who doesn't turn nasty when he's made to feel a complete outsider in his girl's life. You certainly gave the poor lad a rough deal, M.D., and it's not to be wondered at that he has decided to give up seeing you for a while.

When a boy's pride is hurt, recovery is slow. The girl who has hurt him, unjustifiably, must prepare to be patient and sweet and kind till the bitter end. She cannot hope to win back her disgruntled suitor within a few minutes after she's dealt his vanity a fatal blow.

Since you have written—I hope a real apology—you cannot do anything now but wait. Be careful not to discuss this incident with all and sundry. Some of your best girl friends may, in repeating the tale, give it a twist which leaves the poor boy in an even more unfavorable light than ever.

Be just, and admit that you were in the wrong. If the boy is really fond of you, he'll come back. In the meantime, don't be resentful or bitter. You needed the lesson, I'm afraid, to teach you to be thoughtful and considerate.

HOME OF YOUR OWN BEST

Happy but Unhappy: When affairs have reached the impasse you describe, it would seem best for the stronger will to take charge. And since your husband is a complacent son, averse to all form of inter-family warfare, yours must be the strongest will at this juncture.

Your plan to take a job is an excellent one. The extra money you make will give your husband heart to set up in a home of his own. Men who have been depending on their family to help them run their married life are apt to be cowards about striking out on their own.

Because they are not plunged into real responsibility from the moment they marry, they shudder away from the idea of undertaking so grave a venture as to support themselves and their wives entirely.

So that a little extra income is a useful argument with which to persuade a reluctant son to leave his fond parents. Even the most easy-going man must appreciate the advantages of being in a home untroubled by family quarrels. Given sufficient incentive he will stir himself and move from the parental roof.

So begin your business career—on the understanding that you will work ONLY if you have a home of your own. Good luck to you.

To Emily and P.J.—Virginia Vane will be glad to answer your inquiries. No one sees her letters but herself. All inquiries are treated with sympathy and consideration. If you prefer not to have your names or initials appear, any suitable signature can be used. Send along your questions. Perhaps an outsider's advice will be of more help to you than that offered by those who are too close to you to see your problem quite clearly and dispassionately.

GOOD GIRL

By Peggy Gaddis

CHAPTER VII

Kent bent and kissed Calissa, silencing the stammering words, and a warm wave of color sped over her face, and the tears vanished from her eyes, swallowed up in the golden glow that leaped into life beneath the touch of his lips.

"I think I understand, dearest—and I should have been kicked for not waiting for an explanation that night—though you'll have to admit the evidence was pretty solidly against you—hang it all, it looked as though you had gone straight from my arms to his, with perfect willingness, and I was wild!" he told her, with a little wry smile for his anger and jealousy of that other night. But since all this has happened—well, I knew you were not just a heartless little flirt, and that you hadn't lead the poor devil on—I sort of put two and two together—and they brought me here—to ask you to forgive me, and—take me back again!"

Calissa drew a long, unsteady, ecstatic breath, and the look in her eyes, the flaming, lovely wonder that burned there was all the answer he needed.

"Oh — Kent!" she whispered, faintly, and did not wince as Kent put his arms about her, lifting her for his kiss, though a sharp agony swept through her injured shoulder.

* * *

The wound healed with a rapidity that was a little surprising even considering Calissa's youth and abounding vitality. Kent called daily at the hospital, and her narrow scrupulously clean room was made into a bower by his flowers.

There came, at last, the day when she was to be discharged from the hospital. Kent was to come for her in the beloved cream-colored roadster, but 3 o'clock, 4 o'clock and finally 5 o'clock came, still without a sign of him. Miss Britton called one of the doctors, who good-naturedly drove the girl home in his own car.

From Uncle John, the following day, Calissa learned that Kent had been called suddenly away to Atlanta by the grave illness of his mother, and Calissa, hugely relieved, told herself promptly that he had not forgotten her.

She went back to work on Monday, and found herself looked upon as something vaguely in the nature of a heroine. Well, perhaps not quite that—but the fact that a man had tried to kill her and succeeded only in killing himself, for love of her, set her somewhat apart from other girls whose lives had not been marked by such experience.

Calissa didn't mind especially. This being set apart gave her more time for thoughts of Kent, and vague dreams of the future, and she was strangely happy, although each day that passed without a letter from Kent, or some sign from him, gave her a bad half-hour or more.

One evening leaving the mill, she walked along Main Street to the commissionary for some purchases, and as she walked, a car rolled to the curb beside her, and a voice spoke to her. She turned swiftly, and her profile was exciting—her mouth was red and looked as though it would be soft and warm to kiss—he tightened his hands on the wheel.

When they left the restaurant after dinner in Augusta, the moon, high and white and supurb, filled the warm street.

"Look here," said Jud, persuasively, "It's much too hot a night for the movies—why don't we just go for a drive? Surely there's a nice drive around here? How agout the reservoir road? Or Sand Bar Ferry road?"

"All right!" said Calissa, happily. Not for a moment did it occur to her to distrust him. He was Kent's friend, and Kent had sent word for her to entertain his friend.

She did not see the little gleam of satisfaction in Jud's eyes, as the car rolled down Broad Street, and out Fifteenth, in the direction of Monte Sano, that stately, lovely residence section that is the pride of Augusta.

Jud talked lightly, easily, as they rode, and Calissa, feeling that to be with the nice, amusing friend of Kent's, chattered away, gaily and freely.

Reaching the top of the hill, instead of turning into Monto Sano Avenue, which would have taken them to the reservoir road, Jud drove straight on out the Washington road. Lonely, now, and deserted, with green hills, and dark, mysterious woods dreaming in the cool white moonlight.

Jud brought the car to a stop beside the road, beneath the shadow of a group of tall pines, and

She Saw Him Drive Rapidly Past Her and Back Toward Town . . . She Was Alone, on a Lonely Country Road, at Night, Miles From Town—and Without a Penny in Her Pocket!

but it was not the familiar and beautiful cream-colored roadster, but a coupe of a more ordinary and businesslike make.

The driver got out and stood in front of her—a young man, rather pudgy, as though fond of good living and not fond of exercise. His face was ruddy beneath crisp blond hair which curled, and his eyes were blue and shallow.

"Hello—it's the cute little redhed!" he greeted her, gaily, offering her his hand. "You remember me, surely—don't break my heart by saying you don't! I was with old Kent at the pavilion that night you two took such a tumble to each other! I'm Jud Preston!"

Calissa put her hand in his for a moment, and felt awkward.

"I—how do you do? I'm Calissa Logan!" she managed, after a moment.

"Of course—Calissa!" said Jud, with relief. "I saw Kent last week in Atlanta, and he told me to be sure and look you up the next time I was in town—this is such a lonesome dump he thought we might be able to cheer each other up!"

Calissa's color rose, and she looked at him, eagerly.

"You saw Kent in Atlanta? Tell me about him—how is he?" she begged, and Jud, reading far more in her eyes than she could have dreamed, grinned inwardly, cynically.

"Oh, Kent's fine!" he answered, lightly. "He sent his regards and said you were to keep me from being lonely!"

Calissa said, simply, "Did he? Then of course, I'll try!"

"It shouldn't be hard, for a pretty girl like you. Just looking at you makes me feel brighter and more cheerful!" said Jud, smiling. "What say we have a bite to eat and go look at the moon? Or is there anything more exciting to do in Stanley Mills?"

"We could go over to Augusta to the movies!" suggested Calissa. "It's only about twenty miles—and we could have dinner there!"

"Swell! I'm feeling brighter and brighter. Let's get going!"

Calissa hesitated, looking down at her sleeveless printed cotton frock. It was quite new, and very becoming. She had paid two dollars for it at the company commissary, and it would have cost four ninety-eight in any of the Augusta shops. She was hatless, but what would one want with a hat on a hot night like this?

The next moment, Jud was helping her into the coupe, and they were whirling off along the road to Augusta.

Jud kept up a running fire of gay, amusing nonsense, answering her questions about Kent, grinning to himself as he realized where her interests lay. Darn it, but she was pretty! He was crazy about her red hair, anyway, and when it had this bronze-gold sheen—the moonlight seemed to get all tangled up in it, switched off the ignition. He turned to Calissa with a suddenly purposeful air that startled her, dreaming of Kent, into sharp and instant awareness of her situation and its dangers.

Jud dropped his arm along the back of the seat, his hand cupping her shoulder, his face turned to her, looking down at her, and through the darkness, she caught the white pallor, the little gleam in his eyes, that marked his tensity, though he spoke lightly.

"And now—what about a little kiss?" he suggested, lightly.

"No!" said Calissa, sharply, and shrugged his hand away from her arm.

His face darkened, his tone resentful. "What do you mean—'no'?" he demanded.

"Just that—no!" said Calissa, with spirit. "You knew when you asked me to come with you, that I was engaged to Kent——"

Jud gave a little contemptuous bark of laughter.

"Engaged my eye! Don't make me laugh!"

"You said that Kent asked you to look me up——" began Calissa, but Jud cut in, sneering.

"Don't be a sap! You know that was a lie, and so did I! I haven't seen Kent since the night at the pavilion! I was bored, and I saw you, and picked you up—I remembered seeing you at the pavilion with Kent—you know, my girl, you're easy on the eyes!"

Calissa was staring at him, wide-eyed, and shaken. "Then—then—it wasn't—Kent——" she began, but Jud cut her short.

"Of course it wasn't Kent—it was you, yourself! And now—let's cut the stalling—come on, be friendly. Let's get better acquainted! I could go for you in a big way—you're cute as a bug's ear, you know!" His arms went about her again, caressing her carelessly, boldly, with a hint of insolence that made Calissa rage with fury.

He sought to draw her close and hard into her arms—and was startled with the fury of her resistance. It was like trying to embrace a struggling, fighting, clawing, wild feline, and, cursing savagely, he let her go as she scrambled out of the car.

He sat still, cursing her, as she ran along the road. A moment later, she heard the grind of the gears as he put the car in motion. Incredulously, she shrank against the side of the road, and saw him drive rapidly past her, and back towards town.

She stood beside the road and stared after him, terrified. All about her, the lonely countryside slept peacefully. Far away, a dog barked, and another answered, closer at hand. Other than that, no sound broke the stillness.

She was alone, on a country road, at night, miles from town—and without a penny in her pocket!

Gladys Glad On Beauty

While paging through one of my famous anthologies the other day I happened upon a poem of Tennyson's that I'd never read before—"Lady Clare Vere de Vere." One phrase in it struck me as particularly applicable to beauty problems. It was "Her manners had not that repose which stamps the caste of Vere de Vere."

While Tennyson was casting a slur at the high born lady in his verse, the lines suggested a most annoying trend in our modern beauties who are living in a much more high-powered age than the haughty Lady Vere de Vere, and hence are acquiring a lot of nervous but unnecessary habits that detract from their charm.

Repose and serenity are two words that modern girls should study. For there's nothing quite so annoying as a girl who is continually twitching her hands, tapping her foot, wriggling about in her seat, or drumming on things. Such lack of serenity is not only disturbing to others, but betrays the girl's own lack of poise and self-confidence.

Few people are ever conscious of the fact that they possess these defects. Yet their fidgeting and twitching are most obvious to their associates—and most disturbing. The girl who really wants to make a good impression on people should let them see that she is calm and composed. For outward composure always implies reserve strength and self-confidence.

The serene, well-poised woman is always free from flutter. Because she makes no futile movements, her movements and gestures have meaning. Because her hands do not wave or wiggle idly, when they do move, they seem to contribute to her expressiveness. In contrast, the woman who fidgets and seems ill at ease cannot give expression to her feelings naturally. Her tension prevents her from exercising her powers. She acts fussed. And she appears fussy to her associates. Her gestures lack all charm and meaning.

If you are of this type, you can correct the condition and increase your calm and poise by learning to relax. Withdraw all nervous energy from your muscles. Let them lapse into quiescence. Cultivate complete repose, and your gestures and movements, when you do make them, will contribute to your expressiveness and charm.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

MORRIS DANCERS

A reader inquires as to the origin of the name "Morris" for a well-known dance, "with which we are all familiar since the appearance in this country of the Morris Dancers from England." Did someone named "Morris" invent the dance?

The name "Morris" is not English at all, but a corruption of the Spanish Morisco, meaning "Moorish." The original "Morris" dance was a Moorish dance, usually performed by a single dancer, and accompanied by castanets.

The dance so popularly known in England as the old "Morris" dance, and to this day revived there, the dancers frequently in costume taking the parts of fictitious characters like Robin Hood and Maid Marian.
